SUBWAY MEN IN NEW YORK STRIKE FOR PAY INCREASE, SERVICE CUT DOWN

Strikers Take Over
Trains When Regular Crews Quit Work at Midnight.

UNION SAYS 95 PER CENT ARE OUT

Express Service on Some Lines Cut 80 Per Cent—Policemen Guard Every Train—No Disorder.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, July 6.—Trains were still running today in the city of New York in spite of a strike of underground motormen
and switchmen, who seceded
from the union recognized by the Interborough Rapid Transport Co., operators of New York's principal subways. The 3,400,000 passengers who were transported to their homes after considerable delay in the last hours. With many of the lines operated by new men, largely imported from other cities, service was slowed down. A few of the larger stations were crowded at the morning hour, partly due to the rain and partly to rain and returning vacationists, but after that the underground passengers were taken care of with less congestion.
The strikers claimed recruits from the Interborough elevated lines, not affected by the original strike arrangement, but company officials said only one "L" men had left their posts.

No Violence Reported.

No violence was reported. Nearly 1000 policemen were placed at office points to maintain order and policemen were on every train riding the crews.

Thousands of persons on their way to work anticipating delays,
left elevated lines, buses, railroad cars and trolleys. This caused crowding above the ground but the task of the subway system officials issued a statement asserting that service being maintained at 75 per cent of normal. Strike organizers, however, said that investigation by the usual number of trains was run and that by nightfall

would be cut to 5 per cent.

James L. Quackenbush, general manager for the Interborough, said
the only place where the system was furnishing no service was outlying section of Brooklyn.

He said now at work, 520
men, he said, to 10 a. m.,
three men had left the elevating system to join the strike, he said.

The Jerome avenue car barns in the Bronx were used to house
cars brought from out-of-town.
Supplies of food are stored
on the way.

Began at Midnight.
The strike, called for higher pay, went into effect at midnight. The new union, which left the strike, the Consolidated Amalgamated Union of Street Car Workers of Greater New York, claims a membership of 704
the 752 motormen and switchmen of the Interborough Rapid Transport Co. The strikers also demanded 1000 through the addition of other employees.

Interborough officials brought motormen from Boston, Philadelphia and Chicago to take the place of the strikers. A special train left Chicago for this city with recruits and with additional waiting to be picked up at midnight.

Partial service at half speed started with the inauguration of the strike.

The Interborough's four elevated lines running up and down Manhattan were not affected.

Cause of the Strike.
The strikers, who bolted from the Brotherhood of Interborough Transit Employees, the company union, to the new organization, demand
a raise of $1 per hour for motormen
and 75 cents an hour for switchmen, approximately a 20 per cent increase. All men work seven hours a week. Motormen are paid from $28.64 to $45.92 a week;
switchmen from $22.48 to $34.16.
The strike the company is paying $1 an hour and expenses.

SIDENER-BENDER TRIAL POSTPONED UNTIL JULY 26

Defense Obtains Postponement After State Announces Itself Ready to Try Felony Case.

ANOTHER JUDGE IS AGREED UPON

C. T. Hayes of Hannibal, Mo., Circuit Court Acceptable to Both Sides and Consents to Act.

The trial of Circuit Attorney Sidener and A. Samuel Bender, special prosecutor on a charge of compounding a felony in connection with the Rutherford murder case settlement was postponed until July 26 on request of the defense after the State had announced readiness in Circuit Judge Landwehr's court today.

At a conference of opposing counsel, Circuit Judge Charles T. Hayes of Hannibal, Mo., was selected to try the case. The change in judges was necessary because Judge Landwehr had disqualified himself and Judge Cornelius Skinner of Bolivar, Mo., appointed to sit in his stead announced in court here today he would be unable to act if there was a postponement as his own docket would occupy him until November.

Advised of his appointment by long distance telephone, Judge Hayes said he would accept and agreed to hold the trial July 26.

Judge Skinner had been appointed by Judge Landwehr to sit in the case and both judges appeared on the bench when court opened at 10 a. m. However, the question of jurisdiction and technical points raised concerning indictments soon made it apparent that the trial was not likely to proceed.

A crowd packed the courtroom and left no standing room anywhere had gathered to watch the first test of strength between the State and the defense in the Rutherford prosecutions. The State was represented by Attorney-General Gentry, special Assistant Attorney-General Wayne Ely and Assistant Attorney-General James Potter. For the defense appeared William Baer and Patrick Cullen, who are Sidener's counsel, and A. M. Frumberg and Harry Blodgett, counsel for Bender.

When court convened, Judge Skinner called the case and asked Attorney-General Gentry if he had any motions to make. The Attorney-General said that there was a substitute indictment for the indictment which originally charged Sidener and Bender jointly with a felony, in having "agreed to accept a large sum of money from John Rutherford," brother of William Allen Scott Rutherford, for their action in letting Allen, who was charged with second-degree murder, go free on payment of a $500 fine. The Attorney-General suggested that the old indictment be dismissed and the new one filed in its place.

Old Indictment Discussed. There was some argument by counsel on the point but finally Judge Skinner ordered the dismissal of the old indictment. Thereupon the Attorney-General moved to have the substitute filed and said that he thought the matter rested with Judge Landwehr. Acquiescing in this view, Judge Landwehr assumed the bench and the new indictment was substituted in the record. Then Judge Landwehr asked when the opposing counsel would be ready for trial.

"We're ready to go to trial today," said Special Prosecutor Ely for the State. William Baer of defense counsel demurred, saying that Gentry in a letter to him had indicated he would not go to trial so long as the grand jury was investigating Sidener's office.

The two judges with counsel for the State and the defense retired to chambers for discussion of the date of trial and of the Judge to preside.

Reason for Re-Indictment. The new indictment against Sidener and Bender was voted by the present grand jury which reviewed the Rutherford case after the previous grand jury had returned the original indictments. The original felony indictment was voted when Miss Elsie Wallace, special stenographer, was in the grand jury room and was open to attack on that technical ground. The present grand jurors heard the State's witnesses retell their testimony without having notes taken and the new indictment is regarded as free from technical flaws.

The difficulty over a Judge arose because the State subpoenaed all the Circuit Judges in St. Louis except Judges Mix and Franklin Miller, thus rendering them ineligible to sit at the trial. Judge Mix is not acceptable to the defense, leaving only Judge Franklin Miller, who is highly regarded by both State and defense counsel.

Circuit Judge Mix today denied the motion of defense counsel to vacate his order of May 24, in which he set aside his original judgment of $500 fine against Allen Rutherford on the ground that

SUBMARINE, SUNK BY LINER, RAISED FROM OCEAN BED

The water at the stern of the Falcon began to churn. Mud and oil splashes came to the surface.

At 2:05, with a geyserlike gesture, the two stern pontoons shot to the surface and there, cradled between them, the extreme tip of the S-51 could be distinguished.

Attention was devoted almost exclusively to the four pontoons at the bow of the ship and the two attached just above the coming tower. Air was forced into the cylinders at 2:40 o'clock. The water again began to churn. The Falcon moved off and just as the ship's bell began to strike 3, the six pontoons broke the surface. Between them came the submarine and a loud cheer went up from the 500 men, who crowded the rails of eight salvage ships.

Shows Above Surface. The submarine showed barely above the surface. She settled down in the water and for a few moments it appeared as though she was slowly sinking. But the settling ceased and she rode along on practically an even keel.

Chief Boatwain's Mate Stanley L. Roman took a small boat and a crew and climbed aboard the stern pair of screening pontoons, placing fenders between them, and began tightening the valves and gauges on the pontoons. Other crews followed and soon men were scrambling like wild ants over the long red cylinders, making them fast to withstand the 140-mile tow to the Brooklyn navy yard.

The tow got under way at 4 o'clock. The loka led with a line attached to the Sagamore, which in turn had two lines aboard the submarine, one to the nose and the other under the gun on the forward deck. The Falcon dropped back and with a 10-inch hawser attached to the stern of the submarine, acted as a jury rudder in steering her.

The Vestal moved up ahead and put a line aboard the loka and the tugs Mallard, Bagaduce and Chewink brought up the rear.

Woman Drowned at Doniphan. Special to the Post-Dispatch. POPULAR BLUFF, Mo., July 6.—Miss Alma Burklow, popular bluff young woman, was drowned in the Current River near Doniphan last evening. The body was found today. Miss Burklow was with a party of 13 persons on an outing, nearly all of whom saw the drowning.

It constituted "a fraud upon the court." Thus, the second degree murder indictment of Rutherford still stands and he is held to be a fugitive from justice, the only bar to his being tried here being the refusal of Gov. Terral of Arkansas to extradite him. Another motion of defense counsel to take depositions in the Rutherford case was denied by Judge Mix.

CALLS DRY JOB SUITED FOR RICH MAN OR CROOK

Edgar R. Ray, Prohibition Administrator for Western Pennsylvania, Tells Why He Quit Post.

By the Associated Press.

PITTSBURGH, July 6.—Edgar R. Ray, prohibition administrator for Western Pennsylvania, who submitted his resignation Saturday to Assistant Secretary Andrews of the Treasury, said today that efforts had been made to force him from the prohibition department following his appointment as the successor of Frederick C. Baird.

Ray issued a statement describing his conference Saturday with Gen. Andrews, and in discussing it with newspaper men said that while he was working under Baird, he got the facts on four or five big alcohol conspiracy cases.

"Since I became administrator they have been unable to get permits," he said. "It is interesting to speculate on what will happen to those cases after I'm gone."

"Big Men" Interested. He said that efforts have been made "to have me thrown out of here and to force me to give those people permits," adding "and there were men back of it big enough to have breakfast with the President of the United States."

Ray also touched upon the assertion in his Washington statement issued when his resignation was announced that the eighteenth amendment was "the biggest swindle that was ever perpetrated in this country." In that connection his statement said, "If the Sixty-ninth Congress of the United States is a dry one, what would happen when we have a wet one?"

"When $25,000,000 of the taxpayers' money is appropriated to enforce a law that they believe cannot be enforced it is a swindle."

Declaring that criticism of his administration had come from one source "and that I expected," he said, "when the word went around that I wouldn't take," they sent the word back that I would be gone by July 1."

Statement of Andrews. Ray said Gen. Andrews informed him he was "a good enforcement officer though he was not so sure as to my executive ability."

Answering, Ray said he told the prohibition chief he felt quite able to handle the job and also informed Gen. Andrews that "the gang in Pittsburgh that 'the gang in Pittsburgh' under its feet."

Gen. Andrews knows that I will not grant permits to 40 breweries in Pennsylvania and I will not grant a permit to a big alcohol company of Pittsburgh, Chicago and New York. I am ready to be relieved of this job any day if it suits the General and I believe I'll have the respect of all with whom my duties have put me in touch. This position is best suited for a rich man or a crook. I am neither."

Without mentioning any name, Ray said "there has been much smoke surrounding at least one assistant United States District Attorney here." He said prohibition violators "openly boasted that their case was well protected because this same Assistant United States Attorney was their lawyer."

Ray said "the wetts need take no consolation from my argument," declaring "it doesn't matter whether our conditions are better or worse than present conditions. The same old gang of brewers, distillers, corrupt office holders and politicians are responsible."

Former Navy Officer Named to Succeed Ray. By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, July 6.—John D. Pennington, former Lieutenant Commander in the navy, was named prohibition administrator at Pittsburgh today by Assistant Secretary Andrews.

Pennington will take over the work now being done by Edgar R. Ray. Ray, it was said at the Treasury, was given the opportunity of staying in the service as an agent.

the wet bloc in the House, denied statements of Wayne B. Wheeler that he had received "honorary" for making wet speeches. He added that he never received any money from the liquor interests in his political campaigns.

Hill told the committee that he had made many speeches for the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, including eight in California, but only his expenses had been paid. He received $25 for an article on prohibition in the North American Review, he said, and $75 for another article written for Current History.

"I did not feel like returning the $25," he said. "In the case of the $75, I divided that between my three daughters so they might start savings accounts."

Replying to Goff, Hill said he would not accept money for making speeches on any subject pending before Congress. He added, however, that this was "a matter of personal taste and judgment."

The Marylander testified that when he began to fight prohibition in Congress he was not of persons in Baltimore law firm to take liquor cases, but he had refused to permit it to do so.

"I wanted to make certain that no one could ever say that I had made money out of the prohibition question in any way," he said. "I wanted to make certain that no one could ever say that I had made money out of the prohibition question in any way."

Station reiterated that his organization at first did not take money from persons directly or indirectly connected with the liquor traffic.

"One day a man came to me who manufactured little wooden cases in which beer bottles had been packed," he said. "I told him I had to refuse his contribution. Then he said, 'You would not refuse money from the farmer, and yet you refuse me money for the manufacture of liquor.'"

"I realized that we would have to change our earlier regulation and now we permit 5 per cent of our total reserves to come from those who might be said to have been connected directly or indirectly with the liquor trade."

Station said the organization was seeking a special fund of $300,000 for the congressional elections this year, and would have many volunteers.

"Are you going to spend any money in Pennsylvania?" demanded Goff. "Well, if things go as they are now, I should say not. We will save that money."

Argument Over Constitution. Goff and Station got into a discussion whether the Volstead act could be amended without violating the Constitution. The West Virginia Senator said the Constitution still stood, and that in it was wrapped up the wisdom of the ages.

"Yes, but it has a hideous wart on its nose," Station retorted. "You want intoxicating wines and beers?" Goff asked.

"No," replied Station. "I do not drink. I think the Constitution has been violated in the home of its friends. The Volstead act betrays it."

"What I want is the amendment of the Volstead act to permit the manufacture and sale of nonintoxicating liquor as provided for under section 29, under certain cases." He referred to the section which permits the manufacture of ciders and fruit juices "nonintoxicating in fact."

"If you repeat the eighteenth amendment there will be no control of the liquor traffic," Goff said. "Oh, yes, in 42 states," Station returned.

"But not so far as the Federal Government is concerned," Goff returned. "Yes, I want to go back to the time of Jefferson and Washington."

WOMEN GAVE MOST TO THE WET CAUSE

Association Against Prohibition Lists St. Louisian Among Its Contributors.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, July 6.—Mrs. Barend Van Gerbig of New Canaan, Conn., was listed as the largest contributor to the headquarters of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, with Mrs. Marino de Brabant of New York City, the second largest, in figures presented to the Senate Campaign Funds Committee today by the association.

Mrs. Van Gerbig gave $2500 in five installments while Mrs. De Brabant gave $2000. The list covers the period from 1921 to 1925. William H. Station, national chairman, said a list of state contributors would be furnished later.

There were 15 contributors on the national list for a total of $16,700. They are: Larz Anderson of Washington, former Minister to Sweden, $1500; F. Ambrose Clark, New York, $500; Mrs. Marion de Brabant, New York, $2000; A. C. Gorge, New York, $500; Mrs. Edward S. Harkness, New York, $500; Henry Curtis James, $1000; Henry Janssen and Ferdinand Thun, Reading, Pa., $500; S. C. Miller, Louisville, Ky., $500; Harold P. Pictet, Bryn Athyn Pa., $500; John A. Roebing, Bernardsville, N. J., $1000; Stiefel Roebing, Trenton, N. J., $500; Hiram W. Sibley, Rochester, N. Y., $500; Mrs. Barend Van Gerbig, New Canaan, Conn., $2500; William I. Walther, New York, $500; and Fred Wendler, St. Louis, $500.

The committee made public the list of contributors to the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, but withheld a list of Antislavery League contributors obtained from the records at league headquarters in Ohio. Publication of this list has been objected to by Wayne B. Wheeler, and the committee decided, three to two, to make public later only those contributions which have been made recently. Others will be held in confidence as not germane to the present inquiry.

"The committee will examine the list and decide which are to be entered on the record," Senator King of Utah, acting chairman, said. Contributions since Jan. 1, 1925, later are made public. (They are given elsewhere in the Post-Dispatch.)

Senator Reed of Missouri, the chairman, and Senator La Follette (Rep.), Wisconsin, were recorded as voting to make all the names public with Senators King, Goff (Rep.), West Virginia, and McNary (Rep.), Oregon, voting the other way.

The robbers forced him to drive through Forest Park and east to the foot of Chestnut street, where they put him out on the levee. The machine has not been found.

Fire Destroys Landmark. WINCHESTER, Ill., July 6.—Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the opera house here and the McCauley Hotel, a landmark, early today. The loss is estimated at $75,000. The Jacksonville Fire Department sent apparatus and the fire was put out at 5 a. m.

BEGS $1.20 FROM 6 ROBBERS. Earl Burr, a Yellow taxicab chauffeur, was robbed of his automobile and $2 by six "fates" who had driven from Fourteenth street and Lafayette avenue to a point near Chain of Rocks, but got $1.20 back.

After being robbed, he asked for carfare and was given 25 cents by one robber. He begged for more, and another robber led him aside. "Here is a dollar," the man said. "It is all I have, but you are welcome to it. I don't like this business."

FUGITIVE FROM OKLAHOMA TAKEN INTO CUSTODY HERE

Quit Reformatory to Verify Report That He Claimed As Fiancee Had Married.

Raymond Lewis, 24 years old, an escaped prisoner from the Oklahoma State Reformatory at Granite, Ok., was arrested at the home of his brother, Dr. W. F. Lewis, 4557 Sacramento avenue, today. He was serving a 10-year sentence for robbery from Tulsa, Ok., and had finished three years. His good behavior had won him the standing of trusty and had he escaped he would have been eligible to parole in 22 more months.

Lewis told detectives that he had a girl in St. Louis who had promised to wait for him, but he had heard she had married another man, and he came here to learn whether the report was true. It was a week ago Friday he walked away from the prison grounds and, by begging rides, made his way here.

Bootlegging Activities.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, July 6.—Martin Durkin, on the witness stand today in his own behalf, opposed the charge that he murdered Edwin C. Shanahan, a Federal agent, Oct. 11, by testifying he believed his victim was a holdup man.

When Shanahan approached him in a garage, the prisoner said, he shouted "help" and then fired at Shanahan. His self-defense claim had been expected.

He prefaced the story of the shooting by admitting that he had been active as a bootlegger at the age of 23, carrying on a liquor business from coast to coast. His mother earlier in the trial had admitted that her son sold liquor and his father had said he suspected it.

Joining the Royal Horse artillery of the Sixth division, he was shocked, Durkin declared, worked on a railroad, and then entered the used automobile business, "and bootlegged on the side." His bootlegging business, he testified, was centered in Chicago, New York and California.

Two persons were drowned in the Meramec River during the Independence day holiday period. Another died of heart disease while swimming in the river.

Clifford Hiken, 24 years old, a laborer, of 3935 Page boulevard, was drowned Sunday night when seized with cramps while swimming in the Meramec River, near Pacific, in Franklin County. His body was recovered last night and will be brought to St. Louis for burial tomorrow.

Hiken was taken to a point on the river, near Pacific, Sunday, with his wife, Della, and a party of friends. They planned to spend the night fishing. With a companion Hiken went in swimming about 8 p. m. and had got about 12 feet from shore when he went under, without making an outcry.

Second Drowning.
The other drowning was that of Jabez Vassalli, 31, of 2415 Breddell avenue, Maplewood. He lost his life Sunday, when he fell from a rowboat into the river, near St. Clair, in Franklin County.

Vassalli was fishing with his brother-in-law, Cecil Knochenmann, of 3644 Commonwealth avenue, Maplewood. Knochenmann said Vassalli was starting to take a fish from his hook when he placed his hands in his chest and fell into the water. Knochenmann made a futile attempt to rescue Vassalli, and then summoned other members of the party, who recovered the body.

Dies of Heart Attack.
A coroner's verdict of death from drowning was returned. Relatives said Vassalli was subject to heart attacks.

In swimming across the river at Hollywood Beach, a Jefferson County resort near Lenox Ferry road, yesterday, George J. Cadwell, 45, of 3109 Clay avenue, went beneath the surface of the water and failed to appear again. Other swimmers recovered the body. An autopsy disclosed that death was caused by heart disease.

Cadwell, his wife, Laura, and their son, Russell, 14, were spending the holiday period at the resort. At 10 a. m. he and his son started to swim across the river. As the elder Cadwell neared the St. Louis County shore he went under.

As the striking motormen, ending their runs, stepped from the trains, they were replaced by strike breakers. Two policemen rode on the front platform of each train.

In a last-minute effort to gain their demands without quitting work, strike leaders met with members of the Transit Commission and offered a new arbitration plan. It was suggested that an arbitration board of three chosen, one by the striking union, one by the company and one by both. If both could not agree the third member might be chosen by a Supreme Court Justice.

Fire of undetermined origin at the Cabanne Laundry, 2609 Pine boulevard, caused damage estimated at $15,000 to the two-story brick building and its contents last night.

The bungalow of Joseph Hubenthal at 4716 Margaretta avenue was damaged about $200 by fire early today. The blaze is believed to have been started by leakage from a gas meter.

A lumber yard fire, believed to have been of incendiary origin, caused a $5000 loss at the Haffner Lumber Co., 73 Dock street, yesterday afternoon. The blaze started between two piles of lumber where firemen found traces of oily waste.

Sunday night there were two fires with losses estimated at $20,000 in each one. They were at the American Fashion Shop, 135 South Broadway, and at the clothing store of Max Schram, 2303 Franklin avenue. Two persons said that they heard explosions shortly before the fire was discovered at the South Broadway address.

Four Had Been Named by Informers in Union-Easton
Trust Co. Messenger Robbery.

With the signed confession of an informer, police are prepared to go before the grand jury and seek indictments against three of the four men they are told participated in the $14,000 robbery of the two boy messengers for the Union-Easton Trust Co. on June 22.

Since the informer "came across" late last week, the police have corralled all the men he named as participants in the robbery. Anthony Salvaggi is dead, shot in an encounter with city detectives near Collinsville Thursday. Joseph Simon, who was wounded in the same affray, and Frank Silsby who was arrested Saturday, are under $20,000 bond each.

Fourth Man Arrested.
The fourth and last man, James Michaels, 22, of 1032 South Thirtieth street, was apprehended early yesterday by detectives who went to Okawville, Ill., where they found him registered as "Charles Meyers." All four are Cuckoo Gangsters.

Michals so far has failed to furnish the $20,000 bond necessary for release. He already is under $35,000 in bonds, a $25,000 bond pending the appeal of a five-year sentence for participation in a $1400 payroll holdup at the Rice-Hutchins shoe Co. last year, and a $10,000 bond pending trial for robbing a Liberty Central Trust Co. messenger of $7000 at Jefferson and Park avenues. He has been arrested more than 25 times.

Also under bond are Howard Blaisdell, a former bank clerk, who confessed that he told about the movements of the bank messengers, and Joseph O. Harper and Gus Joseph, who say they planned to rob the messengers with knowledge obtained from Blaisdell.

The informant told police he got Blaisdell's information and gave it to Silsby under promise that he would receive $2000 as his share of the loot. He got $300, he said, and surrendered that sum to the police. No other money has been recovered.

CAILLAUX URGES FULL POWERS TO SAVE THE FRANC

Deputies Must Renounce,
for Present, Discussions of Plans and Leave Task
to Ministry, He Says.

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, July 6.—Finance Minister, Caillaux today demanded of the Chamber of Deputies full powers for the Government to issue decrees to solve the financial situation.

The deputies were told that they would have to renounce, for the time being, discussions of measures for renovating the country's finances, and turn the task over to the ministry.

Caillaux categorically declared that the Government must be authorized to proceed by decree to effect economies, apply restrictions in consumption and arrange the details of a scheme for stabilizing the franc. This must be done secretly, he asserted, in order to succeed.

The whole Government's financial program, as outlined by the minister, is founded on stabilization of the franc, with the settlement of the nation's debts a prerequisite.

The Finance Minister, outlining the financial situation, in his first appearance before the Chamber since the creation of the tenth Briand Ministry, was extremely discreet with reference to the question of French debts. He justified his caution by referring to the "importance of the negotiations now under way."

"We will propose ratification of the interallied accords with certain recalculation, with reference to the question of French debts. We are seeking, and in accord with certain assurances which we already have obtained," he said.

The Finance Minister said that only $60,000,000 francs were left to the state from advances authorized by the Bank of France. The legal limit of circulation would not be surpassed as of June, he added.

Further inflation is inevitable, Finance Minister Caillaux told the Chamber, unless the financial situation were altered. To this end, he declared, stabilization of the franc was absolutely necessary. He asserted that this would mean the necessity of obtaining credits abroad and to get these credits France must settle her foreign debts.

Report of Experts.
Caillaux's financial program is generally conceded to have a good chance of approval by the

His Sentence.

William J. Kinney, former Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue in St. Louis, who was sentenced to 18 months in prison at Indianapolis, Ind., last December, for participation in the conspiracy in which $92 barrels of whisky were removed from the Jack Daniel Distillery, was released on parole from Leavenworth Federal prison at 8 a. m. Sunday, having served six months of his sentence.

He was the first of the defendants to complete his penitentiary sentence. Arnold J. Hellmich, former Collector of Internal Revenue and Kinney's superior in office, was sentenced to two years and will be eligible for parole in September. The other defendants were released on bond pending appeal of their case to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals.

Kinney, who lives at 3431 McKean avenue and is a brother of State Senator Michael Kinney, was met at the prison gates by his wife and Senator Kinney, who accompanied him to Kansas City, where he said he would remain a few days before returning to St. Louis.

Sentenced Kinney also was convicted in the case, but was granted a new trial by the trial judge, who expressed doubt as to his guilt.

William J. Kinney was in charge of the distillery during the robbery, having been placed there by Hellmich during a vacation of the regular storekeeper gauger. The Government charged at the trial that he knew the distillery was being robbed and took no steps to prevent it.

Chamber of Deputies at Today's Session.
The Cabinet agreed with the conclusions of experts that restoration of the franc could not be realized without the aid of foreign credits, which would not be forthcoming unless the Washington and London debt accords were ratified.

The unprecedentedly low exchange rate of the franc, emphasized by a report of experts who studied the question for a month, has given considerable strength in the past few days to sentiment for ratification of the American debt agreement as a means of stabilizing the franc.

One critic of the Washington agreement, Albert Duhamy, writing in La Volante, admits that he would prefer to repulse that "crushing treaty with hands," but "today France's safety is a supreme law. It demands real men, a program, and a majority."

A Cabinet Council today decided to forbid the demonstration by former soldiers against the Washington debt settlement, set for next Sunday, as discourteous to America and inimical to the public order. The Cabinet regarded the demonstration as a purely political move, inspired by the communists.

TWO MORE DEATHS ATTRIBUTED TO HEAT

Present Warm Spell Not Unseasonable, Forecaster Says;
No Relief in Sight.

There were two deaths yesterday attributed to the heat, one in St. Louis and one in East St. Louis. This makes a total of seven in St. Louis and one in East St. Louis since the present hot spell set in June 30.

Charles Johnson, 55 years old, a stone mason, was found dead in the kitchen of his home, 2125 Sulphur avenue, yesterday morning. Earl Maddox, 49, died last night at his home, 42 St. Clair avenue, East St. Louis. He was stricken last Thursday while working on a sand dredge in the Mississippi River, and had apparently recovered when he suffered another heat stroke yesterday.

John Gibson, 21, a baker, of 3829 Greer avenue, was treated for heat prostration, after he collapsed in the kitchen of his home, 2125 Sulphur avenue, yesterday morning. Earl Maddox, 49, died last night at his home, 42 St. Clair avenue, East St. Louis. He was stricken last Thursday while working on a sand dredge in the Mississippi River, and had apparently recovered when he suffered another heat stroke yesterday.

Two inquests on heat victims were held today. Charles A. Doyne, 40 years old, a salesman, of Ogden, N. Y., became ill at the Madison Hotel, 1831 Market street, and was taken to the City Hospital, where he died at 8:45 p. m. Saturday. John J. Fobrosch, 30, a carpenter, of 3512 North Ninth street, was found dead at 5:15 a. m. Sunday in a room at 1007 Bidle street, where he had gone with friends on returning from a fishing trip.

No Signs of Change.
Complaints against the present weather are a little unjust, Forecaster Hayes says, because it is reasonable and just about like it was this time last year. The complaints, he suggests, are due to the unusually cool June that was enjoyed hereabouts, bringing the present high temperatures into unpleasant comparison.

The present heat spell began last Tuesday and is general over the central part of the country. The highest temperature reached was 98, Friday. The lowest was 73, early Sunday morning. The high-est yesterday was 93.

At 11 a. m. today the temperature was 94, after which it dropped to 80 at noon. Forecaster Hayes could not see in the sudden drop an end of the hot spell. It was caused, he explained by thunderstorms to the north of this section, and probabilities are that the high temperatures here will continue. There are no signs of a material change now.

For the opening days of July last year the temperatures ranged from 91 to 97, with the highest on July 2. The highest on the fifth was 92.

Skin Youth

Brought Back by New Tonic

A famous Beauty Expert has just discovered a new kind of Face Powder which quickly stimulates the skin to health and vigor, renewing skin youth. This tonic powder is almost magically healing and soothing—it has an immediate effect upon pimples, blemishes, roughness, and enlarged pores. Even blackheads disappear.

This new powder is marvelously adhesive—it clings until washed off. Yet it is not absorbed by the skin (blackheads are often caused by the pores absorbing inferior powders). Use this magic tonic powder and watch your skin grow young and healthy again—pimples, blackheads, oily skin, enlarged pores and age signs disappear.

Ask for a box of Golden Peacock Tonic Face Powder at any drug or department store today.

Skin Youth
Brought Back by New Tonic

A famous Beauty Expert has just discovered a new kind of Face Powder which quickly stimulates the skin to health and vigor, renewing skin youth. This tonic powder is almost magically healing and soothing—it has an immediate effect upon pimples, blemishes, roughness, and enlarged pores. Even black heads disappear.

This new powder is marvelously adhesive—it clings until washed off. Yet it is not absorbed by the skin (blackheads are often caused by the pores absorbing inferior powders). Use this magic tonic powder and watch your skin grow young and healthy again—pimples, blackheads, oily skin, enlarged pores and age signs disappear.

B. J. Doty of Memphis Now Faces Imprisonment in Syria

BEIRUT, Syria, July 6.—The charge of desertion from the Foreign Legion against Bennett J. Doty of Memphis, Tenn., has been reduced to the less serious charge of absence without leave with extenuating circumstances. Doty was fighting for France against the rebel Druze tribes.

The new charge carries a penalty of imprisonment from six to eight months at the most. The death penalty is the maximum for desertion under fire.

Doty, who is 35 years old, served in the World War and was praised by his commanding officer here for heroism at the capture of Houaida. He was to have been court-martialed tomorrow, but the trial has been postponed indefinitely. A semi-official explanation is that he was captured by Druze rebels while absent without leave and held prisoner by them.

He enlisted under the name of Gilbert Clare. When in June he seemed destined to face a firing squad, the State Department at Washington made inquiries at Paris. The French Government gave assurance that he would receive every consideration at his trial.

Everyday Folks and their Breakfast

Will eat cereals?—bring on Puffed Rice and watch me!

There was a time when I wouldn't eat any cereal without lots of cooking and urging, according to his mother's a different story to tell for it!

By giving youngsters Puffed Rice instead of ordinary cereals, mothers have found the same result. The modern idea in diet is to give youngsters the food they need to make them like. You start now by giving the appetite.

Puffed Rice does it probably better than any other cereal known. The flake like toasted nutmeats—crisps that crunch in your mouth as fresh toast.

Each grain is steam puffed to its natural size. That makes it easy. Then it's richly coated, which makes it as alluring a confection. Children revel in its unique deliciousness.

Isn't it better to give your child grain food in this enticing form to command and coax rather than to eat? Try it a few days. That happens will surprise you. Puffed Rice at any grocery.

MAYOR WOULD SHIFT

$120,000-A-YEAR BILL

He Wants Board of Education
to Take Over School for Feeble-Minded.

Mayor Miller, in a letter sent to-day to the Board of Education, suggested that it take over the St. Louis Training School for Feeble Minded, basing the suggestion upon the fact that the service performed by the school is educational as well as charitable and that the maintenance and operation of the school, at a cost of $120,000 a year, is a burden which the Board of Education, with relatively greater increase in revenues than the city, is better able to carry.

The activities supported by municipal revenue have increased to such an extent, the letter stated, that the municipal government is forced to either restrict these activities or provide additional revenue. The tax limit has been reached and the revenue cannot be increased by taxation.

He acknowledges the action of the Board of Education in furnishing nurses, but says that the Board of Estimate and Apportionment has come to the conclusion that all school expenses should be paid out of the Board of Education revenue.

He points out that in 10 years the revenues received by the Board of Education from the city levy for taxes have increased approximately 142 per cent, while the city's increase was about 92 per cent. In the same period the revenues received by the Board of Education from the License Collector increased about 145 per cent, while the city's increase was about 113 per cent.

"In view of these circumstances," the Mayor says in conclusion, "and in view of the fact that the activities of this institution are educational, I ask you on behalf of the city government to make arrangements to take over the management of this institution and pay for the same out of the receipts for school operation."

The school occupies about 600 acres on Bellefontaine and Hall roads, north of Baden. About $1,000,000 has been spent on buildings and equipment under the bond issues of 1920 and 1923.

WIFE DIVORCES SIGMUND BASS

Obtains Decree on Desertion Charge; to Get $250 a Month.

Mrs. Ada R. Bass was granted a divorce today from Sigmund M. Bass, an attorney, with offices in the Times Building. There was no contest, a stipulation being filed in which Bass agreed to pay $250 a month for the support of Mrs. Bass and their daughter, Jane Lee, 9 years old.

Mrs. Bass alleged that her husband deserted her in October, 1922. They were married July 15, 1911, at Tulsa, Ok.

MAN SERIOUSLY WOUNDED

BY RAILROAD SPECIAL AGENT

Frank Weldon, 50, Shot in Back on Leaving Freight Car in Missouri Pacific Yard.

As he emerged from a freight car in the Missouri Pacific Paper street yard at 4:30 a. m. today, Frank Weldon, 50 years old, of 512 Wash street, was shot in the back and seriously injured by Philip Meinz of 2602A West Sullivan avenue, a railroad special agent.

Meinz saw Weldon leave the box car with a canvas bag on his shoulder and presumed that the bag contained loot. When ordered to halt, Weldon shifted the bag to the front and ran. Meinz fired three shots, two in the air and one at the man.

At City Hospital, Weldon said he had "bummed" his way from Washington, Mo., and was asleep when the car was switched into the yard. The bag contained clothing and other personal property.

The activities supported by municipal revenue have increased to such an extent, the letter stated, that the municipal government is forced to either restrict these activities or provide additional revenue. The tax limit has been reached and the revenue cannot be increased by taxation.

He acknowledges the action of the Board of Education in furnishing nurses, but says that the Board of Estimate and Apportionment has come to the conclusion that all school expenses should be paid out of the Board of Education revenue.

FLOOD DAMAGE IN MEXICO

Railroad Schedules Interrupted and Crops Inundated.
By the Associated Press.
MEXICO CITY, July 6.—Another heavy rainfall has added to the flood difficulties in Mexico City's suburbs and the valley of Mexico. Pumps, ditch diggers and dam builders have prevented further rise of the waters, although some of the streets in the nearby villages remain flooded.

Water has filled the railroad tunnel near Barrientos, 12 miles from the city, making it necessary to detour all trains to and from Laredo and El Paso. It is feared the crop damage may run into several millions of pesos, constituting virtual destruction of the crops in the richest central agricultural states.

AMERICANS IN LONDON CELEBRATE HOLIDAY

Ambassador Presides Over U. S. International Gathering; Coolidge Sends Message.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, July 6.—The American Ambassador, Alanson B. Houghton, presided last night over a notable gathering of an international character under the auspices of the American Society in London to celebrate Independence Day. He modestly left the honor of the speechmaking to this special anniversary to Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, New York, and the Earl of Birkenhead, Secretary for India. Dr. Butler gave his estimate of the present stage of American progress and development, and Lord Birkenhead responded with the British view of the influence of that progress.

Ambassador Houghton proposed the principal toast in the briefest manner, saying he hoped each succeeding anniversary would find the British and American people bound closer and closer together in mutual respect and understanding.
Hope of the Future.
After Dr. Butler had spoken, Birkenhead, responding to the toast "Our Guests," opened in a humorous vein with the remark: "It is true we have been reminded in language of scholarly delicacy that the British efforts to retain the American colonies did not entirely succeed. Apparently, however, we owed an enormous debt to two very dissimilar figures, Lord North and Thomas Paine."

Lord Birkenhead did not believe that the good relations between the United States and Great Britain could be maintained by sentimental speeches; the real hope of the future, which was worth all the sentiment in the world, was that on every major moral question the two peoples thought alike.
The real factors making for permanent peace, good feeling and friendship between the two countries, he continued, was that they were deriving their teachings from the same source, and their conclusions would inevitably reach the same goal. It was a solid result for Europe and humanity that there had emerged a great nation with immense initiative and variety of origin, which side by side with Britain would maintain the victories won by civilization.

President Coolidge sent a message saying:
"The annually recurring observation of Independence Day by the American Society in London has always been gratifying to me as an evidence of that love of country and devotion which seems to be innate and enduring in American citizens and to control them wherever they may be. It is especially pleasing that on this occasion, when in every city, town and hamlet in the United States the people are celebrating the sesquicentennial of the signing of the Declaration of Independence, their fellow citizens in a foreign land join with them in commemorating that great event which gave birth to a union dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal and founded upon undying principles of right and justice, and in extolling the wisdom of our forefathers which made this nation our heritage."

"No loyal Englishman of this day and generation need look upon the Declaration of Independence with anything but satisfaction," Dr. Butler said in his address. "For it records in stately fashion a great accomplishment of English tradition, English conviction and English ideals."

UNION REPORT ON

BRITISH STRIKE

Trades Congress Reveals It Called Quits Because Miners Were Uncompromising.

By JOHN L. BALDERSTON.
London Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

LONDON, July 6.—Secrets of the recent general strike are uncovered in a report drawn up by the General Council of the Trades Union Congress.

The report was prepared in connection with the inquiry which the Trades Union Congress had planned on the strike, but which had been postponed pending the settlement of the mine strike.

The text of the General Council's report indicates that the reason for this reticence is fear of an unfavorable effect on the miners' cause. The report by implication, repudiates and attacks the refusal of the miners before, during and since the general strike to yield to Premier Baldwin's insistence that the royal coal commission's report be accepted as the basis for negotiation.

The Trades Union Congress report declares: "The attitude of the miners gave the owners an excuse for getting away from the terms of the commission's report of which Cox (the miners' secretary) had definitely said, 'That 70 per cent of the report is what miners want.'"

According to the Trades Union Congress council the miners' slogan for no longer hours or lower wages would have thrown 300,000 miners out of work by closing unprofitable mines and the strike began "not on the formula of the miners, which had been definitely rejected by the Industrial Committee of the Trades Union Congress, but on the decision of a conference of the executives to support the miners against having to accept reductions of wages before negotiating on the rest of the commission's report."

The Trades Union Congress council then explains how it obtained the adoption of the Samuel memorandum during the strike, thus substantially improving the miners' position. "Whether the miners' leaders threw all this away and now it is very doubtful after all these weeks of starvation, temporary smashing of British trades unionism and victimization of thousands of men who tried to help them, whether miners will get anything like what the general council had obtained for them."

Why Strike Was Called Off.
The final bombshell of the report is the flat statement that the general strike was called off because of the uncompromising attitude of the miners' leaders.

"The strike was terminated for one sufficient reason only—namely, that in view of the Miners' Federation, its continuance would have rendered its purpose futile." This statement, suppressed until now in the interests of the miners, would not now be permitted to leak out but for the feeling of moderate labor leaders that the truth must be taken to the miners over the heads of their leaders that they must make some concessions.

The "Westminster Gazette" gives great prominence to the report that during the general strike Baldwin, hard pressed by die-hards in the Cabinet to take extreme measures, threatened to resign and ask the King to make Churchill his successor. This threat ended the pressure. There is no confirmation of this report.

GANG ROBS ICE CREAM PLANT
Ten Men Obtain $20,000 From Safe After Binding Employees.
By the Associated Press.
PERTH AMBOY, N. J., July 6.—
A gang of 10 robbers this morning
invaded the plant of the Castle Ice Cream Co. on Gifford street on the outskirts of the town and overpowered the six employees there working. The men were securely bound and placed in a rear room, while the robbers blew open the office safe. Between $20,000 and $30,000 the receipts of the holiday were taken and the robbers escaped.

HEAD OF ILLINOIS PAROLE BOARD QUILTS

Will Colvin, in Letter of Resignation, Says He Is Victim of "Shyster Plot."

By the Associated Press.
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 6.—
Will Colvin, whose removal as supervisor of the Illinois Division of Pardons and Paroles was requested
by two special grand juries investigating pardon and parole scandals recently, has handed his resignation to Gov. Small.

"Life is too short to continue longer upon the firing line in such a thankless task," the resignation
said.

Defending his own actions during 12 years as head of the parole board, Colvin in a statement to the Governor outlined the accomplishments of the board under his supervision, and attacked "grand juries who consider a thief guilty ever present in penal institutions as against officials who have always done their duty in keeping convicts incarcerated."

The resignation included letters
from Governors Frank O. Lowden and E. F. Dunne written at the conclusion of their terms of office expressing appreciation for Colvin's
work.

The letter declared that Colvin
had been made a victim of plots
to have him removed from office, arranged by "shysters who want a superior of pardons and paroles they can use. They have not been able to use Colvin."

"I am sick and tired and disgusted with it all. I have done my best. While not a member of your original family, I have been loyal to your administration and I am deeply grateful for your devotion and outspoken belief in my integrity."

Gov. Small today said a successor to Will Colvin would be appointed at once, and that "another place
in the administration will be filled by Mr. Colvin within the near future."

Inside and outside the body, there is surpassing beauty of line and design, of finish and fittings—with color-options to meet individual tastes and add to the attractiveness of the car
as a whole.

Women who have never before driven with pleasure or satisfaction are finding in the Hupmobile Eight more than they had ever hoped for in any car.

In short, the woman—or the man—who sees
the Hupmobile Eight, rides in it and drives
it, is bound to ask seriously if a higher price could buy more or even as much in some other type, and if the lure of a lower price
could compensate for less.

Not only that experienced section of American men who know great motor car performance,
but the feminine element of the motor-wise
as well, is granting enthusiastic allegiance to the Hupmobile Eight.

It is this great and growing appreciation of the fineness of Hupmobile as a superbly balanced automobile, as a magnificent performer, as a finer kind of fine car, which is accelerating the nation-wide swing toward the Hupmobile Eight.

MISSOURI PACIFIC LINES

MISSOURI PACIFIC RAILROAD
GULF COAST LINES

INTERNATIONAL-GREAT NORTHERN RAILROAD

Railroads Must Maintain Capacity Plant in Order to Handle Sea- sonal Fluctuations in Traffic Volume

MOVEMENT of the great grain crop, now being harvested, will require the railroads to operate at or near their maximum efficiency and capacity. Movement of most agricultural commodities place burdens on the railroads that are not generally understood. Live stock, for instance, must be transported in special equipment. Vegetables, fruits and other perishables must be handled in either refrigerator or ventilated cars and usually must be moved on especially fast and reliable schedules.

Even grain and grain products must be moved in the very best class of equipment, only. And the very nature of the movement makes it necessary for the railroads to assemble and store large numbers of the best cars. This requires an unusual number of cars and, naturally, also requires a maximum number of locomotives in the best of condition. Whenever the railroads fail, through any cause, to provide adequate and dependable service, the producers, shippers and consumers all suffer, but the railroads suffer most of all.

Fortunately, the railroads never were in better position to provide the required service. As a result of tremendous capital investments, the railroads have ample supplies of both cars and locomotives. And besides the great numbers of both which have been purchased and placed in service in the last four years, other equipment on the railroads has been rebuilt and repaired until there is a smaller percentage awaiting repairs today than at any time in the last five years.

The Missouri Pacific Lines are better prepared to handle the business offered than ever before in the history of the properties.

Co-operation of shippers and receivers of freight is as urgently needed as ever before, however. Prompt loading and unloading of cars and loading as nearly as possible to capacity will be of inestimable assistance. Shippers who anticipate their requirements and notify the railroads as far in advance as possible, also will help greatly.

I solicit your co-operation and suggestions.

W. A. R. Williams
President

RANDOLPH COUNTY CLAIMED FOR HAWES

Former Warring Factions of Democrats There Apparently Harmonized by Candidate.

By CURTIS A. BETTS, A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

MOBERLY, Mo., July 5.—Neither the Reed-anti-Reed question nor the prohibition question is dividing the active organization Democrats of Randolph County, which always is near the top of the list of counties which return Democratic majorities in Missouri. In the senatorial primary Congressman Harry B. Hawes, through his preliminary organization work a year ago, and through his plea for party harmony, has succeeded in obtaining the support of virtually all of the Democrats here known in state politics. In the 1922 Reed-Long campaign this section of Missouri was one of the real battlegrounds, where the party was hopelessly split with nearly all the organization then in power in the county strongly opposed to Reed, while some of the older "regulars," temporarily deposed from power, fought for him every inch of the way.

Now the "Reeds" and the "anti-Reeds" are working in perfect harmony and are insisting that the Hawes vote here will be larger than the combined votes of his opponents. This claim was put forward by Rich R. Correll, former member of the Legislature and executive secretary under former Gov. Gardner.

Indications as to Vote. The indications are that Judge Ewing Cockrell of Warrensburg will be second to Hawes in the Randolph County vote, and that Willis H. Meredith will be third. Cockrell's father, the late Senator Cockrell, was strong in this county, and the family name probably will be good for several hundred votes among the old-timers.

If there has been any active work for either Cockrell or Meredith among the "drys" here it has been done very quietly and there are no surface indications of it. The Hawes list of supporters includes a number who have been prominent in temperance work.

It is evident that the situation here, as in several other strong Democratic communities, that the salesmanship campaign of the Hawes organization has been effective. Nearly a year ago the attempt was begun to impress Democrats with the idea that the party could not hope to win unless there was harmony, and that Hawes was the "harmony candidate."

"Nominate Hawes and win, defeat him and lose," became the rallying cry of the Hawes managers throughout the State, and from the number of those who would be figured against him in almost any political lineup but who are supporting him actively, shows the results of the campaign so far.

Hawes yesterday spoke at an American Legion Fourth of July celebration in Moberly, being introduced by Redick O'Bryan, former prosecuting attorney who was a leader among the Randolph County opponents of Senator Reed in 1922. Hawes avoided politics in his speech though he discussed the principal issues of his campaign from a nonpolitical standpoint. He traced the growth of the centralization of government, inland waterways and good roads, vigorously demanding a return of government closer to the governed, the improvement of rivers and continued Federal aid for roads.

With less than a month of the primary campaign remaining, Hawes, Cockrell and Meredith will be in the field nearly every day. Hawes will be in St. Louis this week, Cockrell in Southeast Missouri and Meredith in counties which the radical "drys" are supposed to control.

Cockrell's Manager Challenges Hawes on Party Support.

KANSAS CITY, July 6.—Ewing Y. Mitchell of Springfield, one of the managers of the senatorial campaign of Judge Ewing Cockrell, today challenged the accuracy of a statement which has been put forth from the headquarters of Congressman Hawes that 57 of the 64 members of the Democratic State Committee are supporting Hawes for the senatorial nomination. Mitchell telegraphed Hawes: "I challenge the accuracy of this statement and call on you to name one-half of 37 members of the Democratic State Committee who are supporting you."

"The Easy" Vacuum Cup Washer

Does What Cannot Be Done by Hand—Wash Clothes and Dry Them, Too

While the vacuum cups of the "Easy" are removing every trace of soil from the clothes in the large tub—in the small tub—which contains the new "Easy" drying device—another lot of clothes is being electrically dried. All rinsing and bluing waters, too, are handled mechanically in this new model.

You owe yourself the satisfaction and convincing proof of a home demonstration, and this may be had without any obligation.

This new Easy is so remarkable that you can't appreciate what it does until you watch it. Have it do your next washing.

There is no expense or obligation involved in the demonstration—and if you want one of these Machines, deferred payments may be arranged.

NEW! See all these wonders of the New Easy Washer

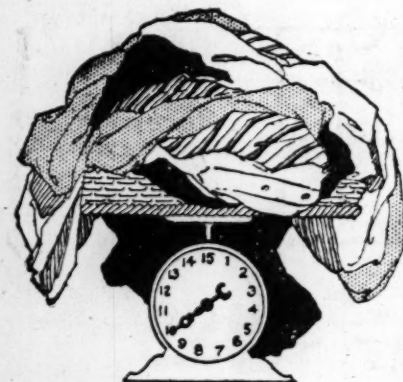

The one right washing method

Like human hands, the Easy's three roomy Vacuum Cups move up and down inside the washing tub sixty times a minute. As they go down, these cups gently flush air, soap and water through the fabric by air pressure. As they rise, the cups draw the air, soap and water back again by suction, turning the clothes so that every piece gets an equal washing.

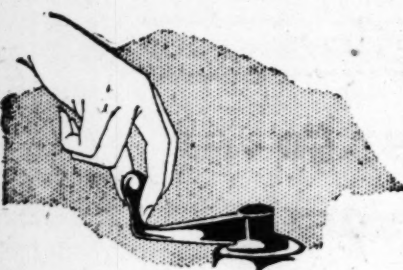

Thorough

Your heaviest, dirtiest things—overalls, blankets, bath mats, rag rugs—are washed spotlessly clean. Even the wristbands of shirts come out without telltale streaks on them.

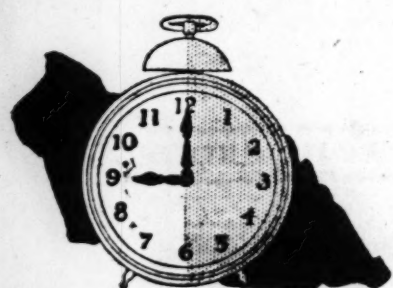

Large capacity

The new Easy washes at one time as many clothes as are equal to eight double or ten single sheets. While all these clothes are washing, another batch just as large is dried at the same time in the Easy's dryer.

Easy to operate

A child can run the new Easy, so simple is it to operate. All you have to do is press a button, move a lever, and both washing and drying are done for you.

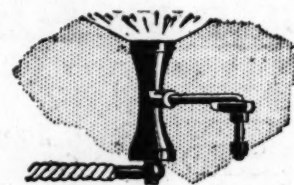

Faster

By doing two things at once—washing and drying—the new Easy cuts its working time in half. It does a complete washing faster than any other washer, without sacrificing gentleness to speed.

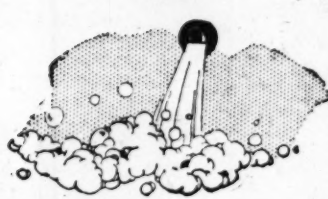

Gentle

The new Easy washes your finest, delicatest pieces as gently as though you dipped them up and down in a bowl of warm soapsuds with your own hands.

The Easy Gas Heater

This convenient gas heater under the Easy keeps the water hot all during the washing. It will also sterilize your white pieces if you wish. It uses little gas, is completely out of the way under the tub, and swings out for convenience in lighting.

Saves soapsuds

You should see how the new Easy makes its own soapsuds in less than a minute. The thick, creamy suds are built up by a unique water-circulating system offered for the first time to housewives in the new Easy. This same system also recovers all the soapsuds from the clothes and returns them to the washtub without wasting a drop.

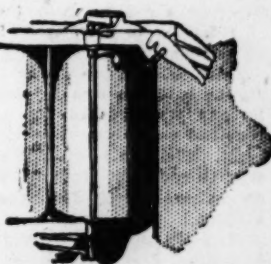

Handles all water

You don't handle so much as a cupful of water with the new Easy Washer—even to empty it. The rinse and the blue waters are sent back from the dryer to the stationary rinse and bluing tubs as pictured here.

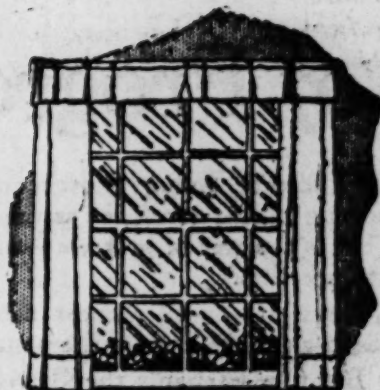

Safety switch

This little safety switch makes it practically impossible to blow out fuses with the new Easy.

Two tubs

The small tub dries while the large tub washes. This little extra tub on the new Easy does all the drying for you more gently than human hands. It takes at one time a quantity of clothes equal to eight double sheets and gets them damp-dry in three minutes. While it dries one batch of clothes the large tub washes another batch. Washday time is cut down to a matter of minutes only, for you can rinse, blue and dry one batch of clothes with the new Easy, and wash another batch at the same time.

Independent of weather

Of course you want to hang your clothes in the sun and air, but should the day be cold or rainy and you must wash, the new Easy makes you independent of the weather. By running the dryer longer than usual you can start ironing the clothes at once.

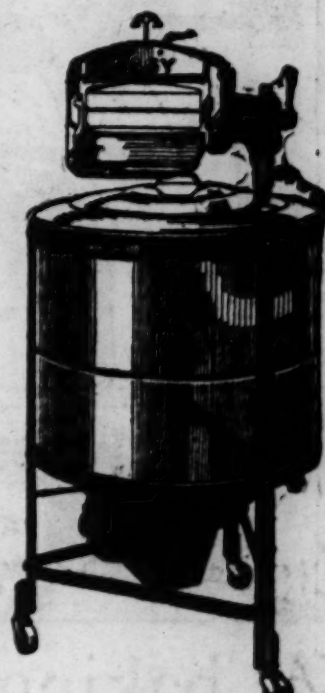

Saves ironing time

It takes less time and work to iron clothes that have been dried by the Easy's new dryer. Your pieces come out without any hard-to-iron wrinkles in them.

FREE

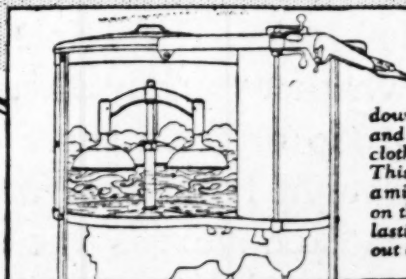

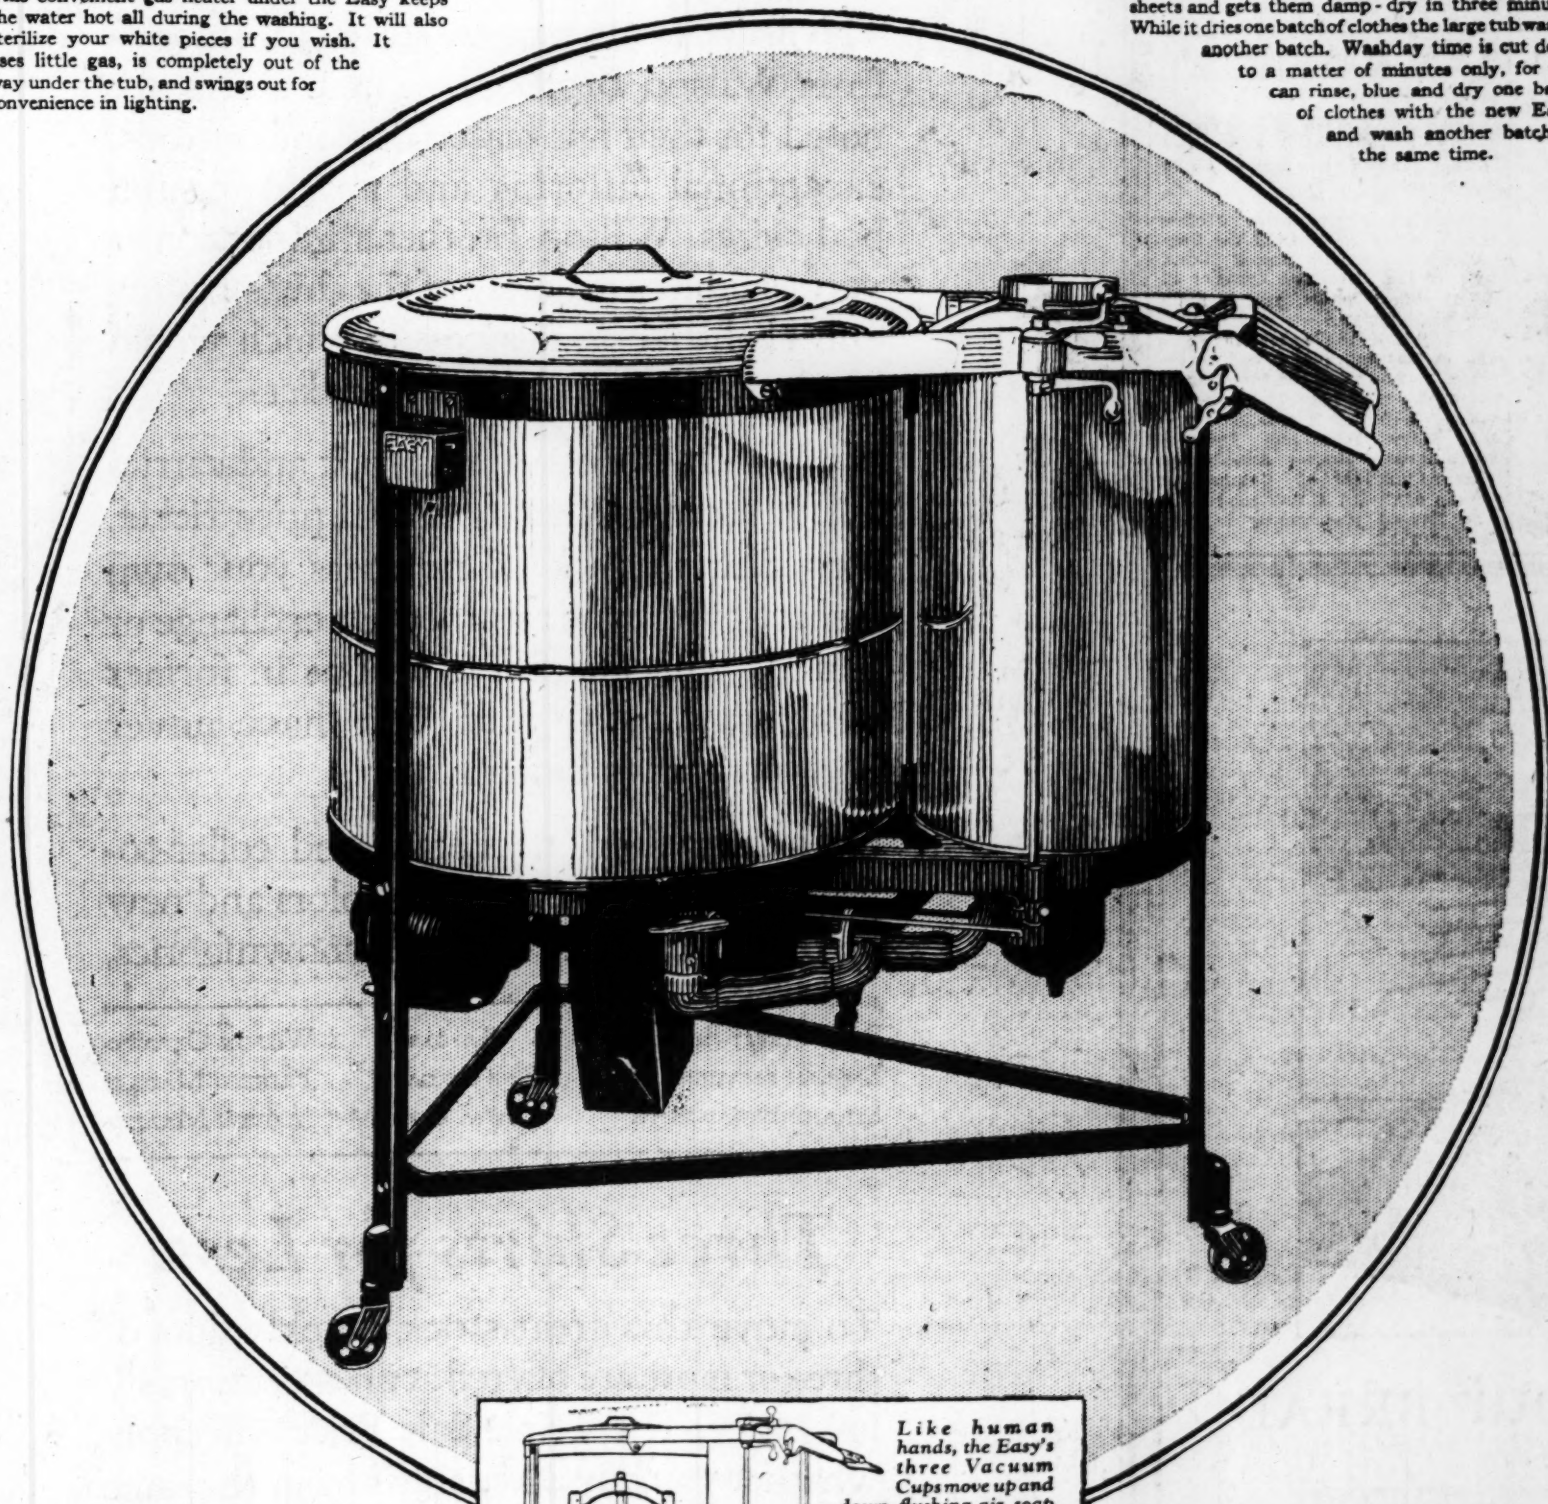

You can't begin to appreciate the wonders of this amazing new Washing Machine until you actually try it out in your own home and do a washing with it. That is just what we want you to do—at our expense. We have arranged to do your week's washing free, without any cost or obligation to you. Just call up any Easy dealer. If you do not know of one near you, write us—and on your next washday the new Easy and a demonstrator will be at your home. If you wish to keep the Easy, you can leave a small deposit and pay the balance on liberal monthly terms.

MODEL M

This is the famous Easy Washer with one-piece metal wringer. With hundreds of thousands of these washers in use to-day, their tremendous popularity has created a permanent demand for them. We shall therefore continue to make this model, with the same fine workmanship and materials.

Like human hands, the Easy's three Vacuum Cups move up and down, flushing air, soap and water through the clothes and back again. This happens sixty times a minute—without wear on the clothes, but everlastingly taking the dirt out of them.

Both tubs of the new Easy are made of solid copper, and are coated with shiny nickel on the inside. A swish of a cloth keeps the smooth surface clean and sanitary after a washing.

The new Easy is made of the same fine materials and with the same careful workmanship as the best automobiles. It lasts for years and years and doesn't get out of order.

The Pioneer of Progress

Of course, minor improvements in oil heating will be developed as the years pass. That is the way of progress—and the price of leadership.

Kleen-Heet will pioneer them. Just as Kleen-Heet has done in the past.

But, fundamentally, the Kleen-Heet of ten years hence will be the Kleen-Heet of today!

Just as the Cadillac or Pierce-Arrow or Rolls-Royce of today is, fundamentally, the same as ten years ago.

For Kleen-Heet is a product of sound engineering practice. Developed by the Winslow Boiler and Engineering Company, its engineering superiority among oil burners is accepted.

Attested by the fact that—again in 1925, as in 1924 and in 1923, more Kleen-Heets were installed in the home of the oil burner industry—Chicago—than burners of any other make.

The baking of your BREAD

GRANDMOTHER used to set her bread to rise in a warm spot back of the stove—and, when they seemed high enough, pop the loaves into the oven and bake them.

She would be surprised if she could see how carefully thermometers are used to "take the temperature" of hundreds of loaves of Certified Bread in the process of rising—how every stage in that process is timed by the clock—and how, in specially built ovens, the temperature is kept so perfectly even that every loaf comes out baked to just the right delicate golden brown.

Fine ingredients—and greater care in baking: these are the reasons why Certified is served on the best tables today.

ILLINOIS SHERIFF'S SLAYER CAPTURED

Joseph Stimas, Who Also Killed Toluca Policeman, Caught After Year's Search.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, July 6.—Sought for almost a year throughout Illinois and adjacent states, Joseph Stimas, 60 years old, charged with slaying the Sheriff and a policeman at Toluca, Ill., is under arrest in Evanston. He was captured Sunday evening at Evanston and will be returned to Toluca to stand trial.

Stimas, who carried a number of large knives, a blackjack and several hundred dollars, had been living in Evanston for some weeks and was supposed to be a retired farmer. He is charged with shooting to death Sheriff Orville L. Litchfield and John Leonard, Night Chief of Police, when they entered his home to arrest him on complaint of his wife.

"It was about dusk when they came after me," he was quoted as having told the police. "One of them came in the front door and another in through the back. They shot first."

Stimas told of fleeing from the house and hiding in a corn field and of aiming his gun at an airplane, used in searching for him, but the cartridge failed to explode. The fugitive said he had spent many hours of every night the last two weeks spying upon the home of relatives in Evanston, in hope of getting a glimpse of his wife.

After his escape from Toluca, Stimas said, he fled to Minneapolis and was treated for a wound received some time ago in a mine blast. Then he journeyed to Evanston to look for his wife, who had gone there shortly after the Toluca killings.

Mrs. Stimas was living with a daughter, Mrs. Robert S. Dewey, and when police learned Stimas was reported bound for Evanston, she left. She later returned.

The capture of the man is understood to have followed discovery of him on the street by relatives, who reported his presence to police. At the hotel where Stimas was living he was accepted as rather wealthy.

OLDEST CARMELITE IN U. S. DIES
Mother Angela, 85, Joined Order By the Associated Press.
60 Years Ago.

BOSTON, July 6.—Rev. Mother Angela, oldest member of the Carmelite order in the United States, died at the Carmelite convent in the Roxbury district, Sunday night at the age of 85.

She joined the order 60 years ago in Baltimore and was transferred to Boston at the founding of the Community here 36 years ago. Before becoming a nun, she was Miss Mary Josephine Dyer of Washington. Mother Angela was a granddaughter of Commander Cassen of the U. S. S. Ticonderoga, who figured prominently in the war of 1812.

WOMAN AND CHILD LOSE LIVES WHEN EXPLOSION SINKS YACHT
Twelve Other Persons Rescued From Water at Catalina Island Amid Gasoline Flames.
By the Associated Press.
AVALON, Santa Catalina Island, Cal., July 6.—Divers went down to the floor of Avalon Bay yesterday to search for the body of Virginia Higgins, 22 months old, who, with Mrs. Ed Tyler of Pasadena, was killed last night when an explosion destroyed the motor cruiser Una-C, owned by H. G. Chaffee, millionaire grocer of Pasadena. The body of Mrs. Tyler was recovered in the afternoon.
Twelve injured persons are under treatment in a hospital and all of them are expected to recover.
S. H. Angelman of Wilmington, who built the craft and launched it three days ago, advanced the belief that the gasoline tanks had been ignited by a bursting gas-line. Fifteen persons were aboard. Chaffee is among the injured.
Harold Lloyd, screen actor, assisted in the work of rescue from aboard his yacht. Five of those thrown into the water were taken aboard his craft.
Eye-witnesses stated the Una-C apparently was cut in two by the blast, each portion sinking in a few seconds. Blazing gasoline covered the surface of the water for several minutes, hampering rescue efforts.
MANAGER OF WATER CO. AT JEFFERSON CITY DISAPPEARS
Missouri River Being Dragged in Search for L. B. Landmann; Trail From Automobile Followed.
Special to the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, July 6.—L. B. Landmann, general manager of the Jefferson City Water Co., who disappeared last night from the water company plant, when he was supervising some construction work. Bloodhounds twice followed a trail from Landmann's automobile, left parked near the water plant, to a point on the river bank about half a mile distant.
Landmann had been under a severe strain because of delays in construction of new settling basins and the inability of the company to clarify the water supply with present equipment. During the last week he had been at the water-works night and day.

Lacking Laws, Commerce Department Seeks Guidance in Its Regulation of Wireless.
By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, July 6.—Congress and the courts have left radio regulation in such a tangled state that the Commerce Department, which has been exercising a degree of supervision over wireless communication, is asking the Department of Justice for legal advice on which it will determine its course. The department's right to regulate wave lengths was successfully challenged in the courts at Chicago and a resolution to legalize such supervision failed when Congress adjourned Saturday.
QUARREL IN BOAT FATAL
Man Drowned, Woman, Who Says He Tried to Choke Her, Saved.
By the Associated Press.
DECATUR, Ill., July 6.—Mrs. Louis Bertucci of Springfield, Ill., arrived in Decatur early this morning to claim the body of her husband, Louis, 33 years old, who was drowned in Lake Decatur about 7:30 o'clock last evening, when quarrelling in a boat with Miss B. Fay Cain of Corpus Christi, Tex.
According to the girl, she met Bertucci in Springfield and did not know he was married. He went to Corpus Christi a week ago and brought her to Springfield, according to her story, and yesterday brought her to Decatur. He had promised to marry her, she said. His wife said he had told her he was going to Indiana, in both instances. According to witnesses, Bertucci rented a canoe for Miss Cain and when she raced with some boys in another canoe he hired a row boat, went out to her and, in an argument, they went into the water. Miss Cain says he tried to choke her while she was in the water. She was rescued.

POPE NAMES DAY OF PRAYER FOR CHURCH IN MEXICO

In Letter He Says Government Is Carrying "True and Real Persecution."

SAYS OTHER FAITH HAVE WIDE LIBERTY

Dedicates Expulsions of Infidels Are More Inhuman Than Would Be Extermination of Malefactors.

By the Associated Press.

ROME, July 6.—Pope Pius has set aside Aug. 1, the feast of St. Peter in Chains, for Catholics throughout the world to see who aid against the strictures of the Mexican Government which reject the Catholic Church.

A circular letter calling for al prayers on this date has sent throughout the world.

The letter recalls that the tiff himself has been praying for his Mexican children the situation arose in December. Persecution of Catholics in Mexico is increasing, the letter says. "The Holy See," says the letter, "continues its reserve on the news of the grievous treatment of the church in Mexico, where the church in Mexico, where the Government of this nation are carrying out true real persecution against the Catholic religion."

"Grave and Dolorous Facts" "It is not necessary to recall grave and dolorous facts multiplying in Mexico, since the emissaries of other religions are permitted the widest liberty in this denied Catholic fashion which would disfigure any civilized people."

"The Mexican Government, not only refuses to permit residence in Mexico of the official representatives, but has so far as to expel the apostolic legate, Monsignor Caruana, a false and calumnious man. Moreover, expulsions of priests and foreign religious persons, sisters, are continuing in a more inhuman manner than would be adopted even against the most heinous malefactor. The number of domestic prelates and dioceses been limited arbitrarily; colleges and seminaries have been closed and conditions unacceptable. Their conscience have been imposed upon them as preliminary to the exercise of their ministry. Churches which prelates have been driven out have been closed by the civil authorities of pretense that they have been abandoned."

Praying Daily for Mexican The letter recalls the Pope's position of the situation on 14, 1915, when he declared he was praying daily for his Mexican brethren, and his recent personal address to Cardinal Poirer of Rome, urging Catholics throughout the world to pray for the afflicted Mexicans.

"Now, however," the letter says, "since the afflictions of Mexican brothers continue, necessary to increase the prayers for them; wherefore the Pope desires the faithful to be in to join him in prayers on Aug. 1. The letter concludes, after pointing out the special significance of the coincidence of the date of St. Peter's festival and St. Francis' centenary: 'All these circumstances will undoubtedly have influenced the prayers of the faithful, the cessation of the persecutions and the pardon of the guilty, the more fervid and will be accorded by God. The Pontiff prays that these intentions be added to the others in the bull, which lends the holy year to the world.'

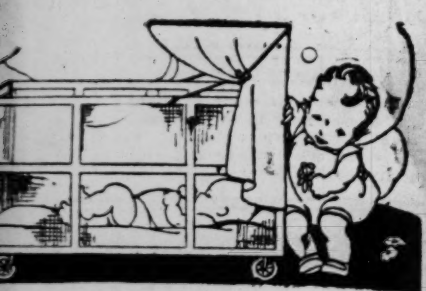

Mexico City's Attorneys to Dismiss Religious Regulations.

MEXICO CITY, July 6.—Fernando Noriega, president of the Association, has called a meeting of Mexico City attorneys to discuss the Government's religious regulations, including the question whether they can be construed as bringing on the liberty of religion.

Noriega says the regulations appear considerably more drastic than necessary and contrary to modern theories of the punishment of crime.

Foreign Minister Saenz has today to comment on the proposal of the Pope against the Government's policy.

POPE NAMES DAY OF PRAYER FOR CHURCH IN MEXICO

In Letter He Says Govern-

"True and Real Persecution."

SAYS OTHER FAITHS
HAVE WIDE LIBERTY

Declares Expulsions of Prelates Are More Inhumane Than Would Be Exiling
of Malefactors.

By the Associated Press.

ROME, July 6.—Pope Pius XI
has not said Aug. 1, the festival of St. Peter in Chains, for Catholics throughout the world to seek divine aid against the strictures of the Mexican Government which affects the Catholic Church.

A circular letter calling for special prayers on this date has been sent throughout the world.

The letter recalls that the Pon-tiff himself has been praying daily for his Mexican children since the situation arose in December.

Persecution of Catholics in Mexico is increasing, the letter says.
"The Holy See," says the letter,
"continues its reserve on the grave
news of the grievous treatment of the church in Mexico, where under a hypocritical form of pretended legality, those controlling the Government of this unhappy nation are carrying out true and real persecution against the Catholic religion."

"Grave and Dolorous Facts."
"It is not necessary to recall the grave and dolorous facts daily multiplying in Mexico, since, while the enemies of other religions are permitted the widest liberty, this liberty is denied Catholics in a fashion which would dishonor
any civilized people."

"The Mexican Government," the letter says, "not only refuses to permit
the exercise of the rights of the Catholic representative, but has gone
so far as to expel the apostolic delegate, Monsignor Caruana, alleging false and calumnious motives."
Moreover, expulsions of prelates and foreign religious persons, even when continuing in a fashion inhumane than would be admitted even against the most vulgar malefactor. The number of domestic prelates and dioceses has been limited arbitrarily; colleges
and seminaries have been closed,
and conditions unacceptable to their conscience have been imposed upon them as preliminary to the exercise of their ministry. Churches which prelates have been violently driven out have been occupied by the civil authorities on the pretense that they have been abandoned."

Praying Daily for Mexicans.
The letter recalls the Pope's recognition of the situation on Dec.
19, 1925, when he declared he was praying daily for his Mexican children, and his recent personal letter addressed to Cardinal Pompili, Pope of Rome, urging Catholics throughout the world to pray for the afflicted Mexicans.

on, "since the afflictions of our Mexican brothers continue, it is necessary to increase the prayers for them; wherefore, the Pope invokes the faithful to be invited to join him in prayers on Aug. 1."
The letter concludes, after pointing out the special significance of the coincidence of the date with St. Peter's festival, that the Pope trusts that "all these circumstances will undoubtedly have influence in that the prayers of the faithful for the cessation of the persecution and the pardon of the guilty, will be more fervid and will be accepted by God. The Pontiff provided that these intentions be added to the others in the bull, which extends the holy year to the whole world."

20,000 PERSONS PRESENT AT FIRST TWO PERFORMANCES OF MISSOURI PACIFIC PAGEANT

Epochs of Transportation in Middle West Are Shown on Large Stage on Francis Field
at Washington U.

St. Louis views outdoor community entertainment with an eye
grown discriminating through experienced years. Strung upon its recreation are many bright beads.
Comes now "Service—A Pageant of Progress," being given upon Francis Field at Washington University by the Missouri Pacific Railroad to append a fresh new luster.

Two audiences of approximately 10,000 each so far have viewed and acclaimed it—first, for historic exactitude and genuine interest; second, for a gleaming fantasy of entrancing color and expert performance with which it is concluded. The pageant opened Sunday night and will end next Sunday. No admission is charged.

The large stage is set at the north side of the athletic field facing the tiers of permanent seats at the south side. Between are several thousand chairs, increasing the seating capacity to approximately 25,000. The first audiences have divided their patronage equally between the two. Whatever is said is audible throughout the hour by reason of a system of amplifiers.

Exceptional Illumination.
The stage is flanked for nearly 100 yards on either side by towering, tapering evergreen trees—the tallest more than 50 feet high.
Trees form the background around a cavernous entrance, and also border the wings. The whole is lighted by batteries of as great candle-power and effectiveness as form the permanent equipment of the Forest Park and Garden theaters.

The pageant is divided into two parts. The first is composed of 12 scenes knit together by a reader, perched aloft at one side and in front of the stage, who declaims
the historical incidents to be portrayed upon the stage. This device serves also to eliminate walls,
making the performance continuous. The first half depicts events with realism; the second presents
the modern results of rapid intercommunication allegorically in dances.

Employees Participate.
The pageant is participated in by several hundred persons upon the stage, by a chorus of 150, by an orchestra of 80, picked from employe bands in various cities and towns
upon the railroad's lines, and a Mexican band of 38 pieces. It is declared that all are employees of the Missouri Pacific.

The first episode is the arrival of Spanish explorers in the vicinity of St. Louis and their meeting with the Indians. The second shows the beginnings of transportation—the arrival of the steamboat at the small village, the stage coach—an authentic coach, not copied from the English tailyho, but an unapocryphal vehicle which saw actual service and now is the property of the City of Pittsburg, Kan.—the prairie schooner and not the motion picture type, but the drabcovered wagon of the financially
poor emigrant—and the pony express.

Skeptical of Prophecies.
The beginnings of the railroad first are shown a scene showing the convention in St. Louis at which United States Senator Thomas H. Benton delivered his resonant demand for the building of a railroad west from St. Louis, the expression of the national Government.

The speech is delivered in the scene. However convincing its oratory, there was no fruition for five years. Then it was not through Federal aid, but upon the initiative of wealthy private citizens of St.
Louis, led by Thomas Allen.

This episode has a haunting modern flavor in its appeal by Allen
for citizens to forget their differences and put their shoulders to the wheel. Allen's prophecies fell upon the ears of the citizens in those days with much the same unbelief that might greet a speech tomorrow in City Hall Park to raise funds for the building of a station for the wireless transportation of electric power or the building of a fleet of airplanes to make 48-hour delivery to the Pacific Coast. Allen promised that a train would go better than the east, and west border of the State within the rising and setting of the sun.

Coming of First Train.
The ceremonies of the turning from commenting on national political affairs.

El Universal editorially makes a plea for tolerance. "Rigid intoler-erance," the paper says, "is only justified by the possession of absolute and eternal truth—one and only truth. Who possesses that?
"If world history teaches anything, it is the indispensability of tolerance for happiness."

Special dispatches from Morilla say that Government officials have closed the "College Teresiano"
—a girls' school having 400 public pupils—on charges of violating the Constitutional clauses prohibiting religious instruction.

Efforts are being made to reach

of the first spadeful of earth near St. Louis for the beginning of the Pacific Railroad, the first west of the Mississippi, made an inspiring scene in the pageant. The "whole town turned out." There was a parade—and every detail is reproduced upon the stage—led by a band, followed by the famous St.
Louis Grays, the drill company of soldiers attired like West Point cadets; the volunteer fire department in red shirts drawing a hose reel; the Mayor, Allen and speakers of the day riding in an open barouche—a long line of citizens.
The speeches are delivered as reported in newspapers of the day and the Mayor turns the first spadeful, as Allen exclaims: "May this spadeful never grow rusty until burnished in the golden sands of the Pacific."

The scale of the spectacle ascends
still higher in the next episode—
the coming of the first train from the West to the city—not very far west. It is true, only Jefferson City and it took 14 years to reach the west boundary of the State—but it was a day of high excitement in old St. Louis.

"Court" of Transportation.
It was a moment of excitement
for the spectators of today also,
for the old train that first traveled those rails had been reproduced in size—a wood-burning locomotive and a solitary coach. The accurate fidelity of the pageant is here emphasized. The engine comes on under its own steam and the smoke
that issues from the funny funnel
of the engine is wafted away.

The fantasy which follows the historical portion of the pageant is called "The Court of Transportation."
At the background is a huge silvered railroad wheel which slowly and unceasingly revolves.

At the left is a lofty throne for Uncle Sam and at the right a similar high perch for Columbia. In a semicircle between them are throne for the various states
touched by the present-day railroad. Each state is represented by a figure attended by a court of varying size.

St. Louis is represented by the conventional mailed knight and Kansas City by a young woman garbed to suggest "the heart of America." First comes Kansas, the wheat state, carrying sheaves and,
with four attendants costumed as the golden harvest.

Nebraska Corn Ballet.
Nebraska brings in her wake, a ballet of 30 simulating in their dress huge ears of corn with corn tassels. One of the bright spots in the grouping of this ballet from the corn field and the meaning of the planning, growth,
tossing and final gathering into shocks.

Illinois is Queen Coal, with a resplendent train of glittering rhinestones. Louisiana comes as King Timber attended by two groups of Mardi Gras harlequins, each of which perform an exuberant, rapid-tempo dance.

Arkansas makes the hit of the performance, with its band of dancing pickaninnies and its Negro male quartet, who likely will remain as great favorites when the pageant has gone. They sang Southern melodies to which they added modern jazz.

Surprising Finale.
Texas is mounted cowboys who put their horses gravely through evolutions of homage to Uncle Sam
and Columbia and a band of cowgirls, who move in intricate drill formations.

FORMER PREMIER OF TURKEY TO MARRY KING FUAD'S EX-WIFE

She Once Named American Woman in Divorce Charges
and Was Sued for Damages.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, July 6.—Former Premier Reouf Bey of Turkey who was mentioned some time ago in connection with a plot against Mustapha Kemal Pasha, plans to marry in Paris the Princess Chievskiar, former wife of King Fuad of Egypt, says a dispatch to the Daily Express from Constantinople.

Reouf Bey is said to be in Budapest at present. The Daily Express believes that the Princess Chievskiar is the same one who sued her husband, Capt. Selyom Bey, for divorce, naming Princess Chakir, the former Mrs. Sidl Wirt Spreckels of San Francisco, as co-respondent.

The Princess Chakir, born on a Kansas farm, was the divorced wife of John D. Spreckels Jr., San Francisco millionaire, when she married Prince Suid Chakir. In January, 1925, Princess Chievskiar sued Capt. Selyom for a divorce, charging that he and the American woman had gone for a long moonlight boat ride together on the Bosphorus at Constantinople.

Princess Chakir replied with a counter-suit in the Constantinople courts, asking 30,000 Turkish pounds (about $140,000) damages
for slander, but the counter-suit never came to trial. It was explained that the yachting trip was made at the American woman's request because her husband had asked his friend, Capt. Selyom, to amuse his wife during the Prince's absence.

Buyer of Senatorship Not Necessarily a Grafter.

May Want Honor or Social Position.

But Senators Have High
Cash Value.

Especially in Tax and Tariff Legislation.

WASHINGTON, July 6.

A GREAT many persons observing that the sum of money spent by a man to obtain a public office is larger than the total salary which he can expect from the office, immediately conclude that he intends to make up the difference "on the side" after he gets in; in short, that he expects to be a grafter. Otherwise, they say, they cannot understand how a candidate for United States Senator, whose total salary for his six-year term is only $60,000, would be willing to spend $100,000 to be nominated and elected.

The writer takes no stock in that argument. It is easy to understand how a millionaire, like Phelps of Colorado, or McKinley of Illinois,
would be perfectly willing to spend several times the amount of salary involved to have the honor of rounding out his career with a term in the Senate. Such cases are, and have been, numerous. The senatorship from Rhode Island, for example, is a great social asset, to Peter Goelet Gerry, who recently married a Vanderbilt. The salary means nothing to him; the office means everything to him and his family. Or take the intensely public-spirited and open-handed Jim Couzens of Michigan. If Couzens were deeply interested in the success of some measure for the public good, and had to keep his seat in the Senate to make a fight for it, would he hesitate over spending a million or two, if he believed it necessary and proper? Not a minute.

IN none of these typical cases is there a trace of corrupt motive,
unless we say that it is corrupt
for a man to feed his personal vanity at the public expense. Indeed, in a case such as that suggested of Couzens the motive would be of the loftiest and most unselfish character. When a man is willing to spend $200,000 in order to get a job that will pay him but $60,000,
it should not solely on that account
be assumed that he is a potential grafter. The truth may be quite the contrary.

HOWEVER, when we encounter
a case like that of Senator Pepper, in Pennsylvania, where we find the Manufacturers' Association putting up $404,000 to nominate and elect him, and standing by, ready to spend more if neces-

ary, then it is high time to inquire into the motives of the willing spender, and to ascertain whether they expect to get their money back, and, if so, in what fashion.
About $2,000,000 was spent in Pepper's behalf. The men who undertook to investigate the traffic in narcotic drugs were carried forward
today by delegates to the first world conference on narcotic education.

Capt. Richmond P. Hobson, president of the International Narcotic Education Association, is according to the conference, and is its newly elected general secretary.

United States Senator McKinley
of Illinois yesterday was elected president. The four vice presidents are United States Senators Copeland
of New York, Gillette of Massachusetts, and Burton of Ohio.

Dr. Clarence J. Owens of Washington, D. C., is director general.

A feature yesterday was the presentation of a report issued by the Treasury Department and prepared by a special committee chosen to investigate the traffic in narcotic drugs. The report, Hobson said, was suppressed by order of a department subordinate, but later united. With the suppression of the report, Hobson said, a document was put out which stated,
"The traffic in narcotic drugs is a problem to consider."

COOLING and REFRESHING TEA

There is no drink in the world so cooling and refreshing as

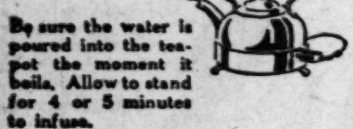

iced INDIA TEA

If made correctly, as given below, it thoroughly tones the system and aids digestion. It stimulates and cheers. You can get India Tea nearly everywhere. Your Soda Fountain attendant will gladly make it for you; or you can get India Tea from your dealer and prepare it yourself as follows:—

Use an earthenware teapot.

Put in one teaspoonful of tea for each glass of tea.

Be sure the water is poured into the teapot the moment it boils. Allow to stand for 4 or 5 minutes to infuse.

Fill the glass with cracked ice, add a slice of lemon, and pour in the tea.

Add sugar to taste.

Try India Tea, either hot or cold, for a little while, and you will drink it regularly. No other drink possesses the same delicious fragrance and stimulating—though harmless—effect.

But be sure you use
INDIA TEA
or a blend containing INDIA TEA

President Delivers Independence Day Speech at Philadelphia Sesquicentennial Exposition.

DRENCHED CROWDS GIVE HIM GREETING

After Address He Attends Delaware Bridge Celebration and Visits Places of Historic Interest.

By the Associated Press. PHILADELPHIA, July 6.—Loyalty to American institutions and the spiritual and moral forces which brought them into existence were urged by President Coolidge yesterday in speaking at exercises in commemoration of the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the adoption of the Declaration of Independence.

He spoke in the municipal stadium on the grounds of the Sesqui-Centennial exposition. Afterward he visited Independence Hall and other places of historic interest, crossed the new suspension bridge across the Delaware River, connecting Philadelphia and Camden, N. J., and at the New Jersey end of the structure planted a maple tree from his native State of Vermont.

Crowd Drenched but Enthusiastic. Rain, which began before his arrival and increased to a steady downpour before his departure, failed to halt the enthusiasm of the thousands who greeted him. The drenched crowds were held in restraint by United States soldiers, sailors and marines, as well as national guardsmen and police. Mr. Coolidge put on a black slicker as he left his car to visit various buildings and doffed his tall hat in response to the greetings. At noon he stood bareheaded under a canopy for 40 minutes delivering his address at the stadium, while misty rain was driven into his face by a sharp east wind.

Holding up the Declaration of Independence as a great spiritual document, the President declared its principles were the result of the religious teachings of the preceding period and asserted that "if we are to maintain the great heritage which has been bequeathed to us, we must be like-minded as the fathers who created it. We must cultivate the spiritual and moral leadership which they showed. We must keep replenished, that they may glow with a more compelling flame, the altar fires before which they worshipped."

Urges Observance of Law. Applause, which greeted his speech from time to time, was emphatic when Mr. Coolidge urged law observance, saying that "of course, the Government can help to sustain ideals and can create institutions through which ideals can be the better observed, but their source by their very nature is in the people; it is not the enactment, but the observance of laws, that creates the character of a nation. "In my opinion, very little of just criticism can attach to the theories and principles of our institutions. There is far more danger of harm than there is hope of good in any radical changes. We do need a better understanding and comprehension of them and a better knowledge of the foundations of government in general."

Accompanied by Historic Troop. Arriving at 11 a. m., accompanied by Attorney-General Sargent, Senator Ernst of Kentucky, Frank W. Stearns of Boston, as well as Secretary Everett Sanders and his military and naval aids, Mr. Coolidge was driven for four miles to the exposition grounds. The first troop, Philadelphia City Cavalry, an organization which has escorted every President who has visited Philadelphia since the time of George Washington, was his escort while a battery of field pieces gave the 21-gun national salute. Army airplanes soared overhead.

After the exercises, the President and Mrs. Coolidge were guests of Mayor Kendrick at a private luncheon and after the exercises at the Delaware River bridge returned to Washington by special train.

FOKKER AIRCRAFT CO. NAMES AGENT IN ST. LOUIS

The Robertson Aircraft Corporation, contract carrier of air mail, has been appointed St. Louis agent for the Fokker Aircraft Corporation. It is announced today by Edgar N. Gott, vice president of the Fokker concern.

The Robertson Corporation will handle a single-engine Fokker cruiser and a three-engine cruiser of the same type as that in which Lieutenant-Commander Byrd flew to the North Pole. Maj. William B. Robertson, president of the contract company, announced he was taking steps to interest a group of St. Louis men in the purchase of a three-engine ship to be used on business trips between St. Louis and New York.

INDIANAPOLIS CAR STRIKE

The Associated Press. INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 6.—The Indianapolis Street Railway Co. was closed today due to the strike of the employees. The strike began at 4 a. m. yesterday by the Indianapolis Street Railway Employees' Association. The company's schedule yesterday was suspended and the cars were not in service and there was a delay in transportation. The demands of the strikers for increased wages, recognition of the union and reinstatement of employees discharged for union activities. The company insists that there has been no formal presentation of grievances.

UNITED STATES TIRES ARE GOOD TIRES

What is a Real Tire Test?

United States Tires are under continual test in our laboratories and on our road test vehicles. Motorcoach tires, for example, are tested under actual service conditions on this United States Rubber Company Test Coach.Among the searching tests made on United States Tires is the "Tread Wear Test" which duplicates in a few days the effect of many months of service.Questions and Answers that may be News to You —
By a Tire Engineer of the United States Rubber CompanyQuestion—With 20,000,000 cars running in America, does not the experience of users largely take the place of factory tests?*Answer—On the contrary. The very fact that motor transportation is so important in the life of every one imposes an additional obligation for searching tests on the tire manufacturer. The makers of United States Tires do not expect their customers to test their tires
for them.Question—What does the United States Rubber Company Factory Test include?*Answer—Everything from the Tree to the finished Tire.
Raw materials are tested before they go into the tires,
and the finished tires are tested in the Company's laboratories and on the Company's road test cars, trucks and buses. They are also watched in actual commercial service.Question—What do these tests prove?*Answer—The material tests insure the quality of material used. The laboratory and road tests of complete tires "prove up" the correctness of manufacturing processes.*Question—What raw materials are tested?*Answer—Cotton cord, which furnishes the strength and flexibility of the tire; rubber, which binds the various parts of the tire together and forms the tread or wearing surface; compounding ingredients, which we mix with the rubber to give it the necessary qualities; and,
steel wire, which is used in making the beads of the tire.*Question—What tests are made on the cord?*Answer—Cord going into the manufacture of Web Cord for United States Tires is tested for strength, stretch, size, twist, ply, length of staple, and freedom from imperfections.*Question—What tests are made on Rubber?*Answer—Even though the quality and uniformity of Sprayed Rubber is controlled by the processes used on our plantations in the Far East, every shipment received at our factories is again tested for uniformity and also, after mixing with sulphur, it is tested for its rate of vulcanization, its tensile strength and stretch.*Question—What tests are made of compounding ingredients?*Answer—Compounding ingredients are tested to determine their purity and uniformity. They are practically all in powder form and even the degree of fineness to which they have been ground is tested.*Question—What tests are made on Steel Wire?*Answer—Steel wire is given a chemical analysis to determine whether it meets our specifications, and it is also tested for tensile strength and elongation.*Question—Are United States Tires tested alongside of other makes?*Answer—Yes. These tests are conducted daily in our laboratories and on our road test vehicles.Question—What is the object of these competitive tests?*Answer—To maintain the superiority of our design and construction.*Question—Does the fact that a large number of tires of a certain design and construction have given satisfactory service obviate the necessity for further tests on tires of the same kind?*Answer—No. Vehicle design and use, and road conditions are constantly changing. Tires that gave excellent satisfaction ten years ago are obsolete today in design and construction.Question—How does the United States Rubber Company keep abreast of these constantly changing conditions?*Answer—It has a corps of factory trained technical experts in different sections of the country, continually checking the service our tires are rendering under actual operating conditions.*Question—Do all companies test their tires in this way?*Answer—Most all companies make tests of some sort.
Very few, if any, carry them to the extent that they are carried by the United States Rubber Company.

PRESS OF GERMANY PRAISES LATE DR. OTTO L. WIEDEFELD

Former Ambassador to U. S. Re-

of Wilson's Death.

By the Associated Press.
BERLIN, July 6.—The death of Dr. Otto Ludwig Wiedfeldt, director general of the Krupp Works,
and post-war Ambassador at Washington, has called forth the warmest praise for one of Germany's great industrial leaders.
The newspapers vie with each other in sympathetic comment.

It is especially emphasized that since his diplomatic retirement,
Dr. Wiedfeldt accomplished a pendous task in successfully transforming the Krupp Works from an international war plant into a vast industrial peace undertaking.

President Von Hindenburg has addressed a message of condolence

to the widow, saying: "Economic Germany loses a great leader who rendered valuable services in a responsible post. I shall cherish his memory."

Dr. Wiedfeldt was 55 years old.
He returned from Washington in January, 1925.

When former President Wilson died in February, 1924, an incident occurred which brought widespread censure upon Dr. Wiedfeldt and was thought to have contributed to his recall early the following year. Dr. Wiedfeldt failed to lower the flag on his embassy to half staff as a mark of sympathy for Mr. Wilson's passing. Three days after the former President's death, an irate crowd visited the embassy in the early morning hours and nailed an American flag
to the flag pole.

It was said in the ambassador's behalf that he had been instructed by the German Foreign Office not to render honors due the head of a nation because Mr. Wilson at the time of his death was a private citizen.

American Youth Award Winners.

By the Associated Press.

PHILADELPHIA, July 6.—The most representative boy, girl and teacher were chosen last night by the winners of the American Youth award, who for a week
have been the guests of the Sesquicentennial Exposition directors.
Those chosen were Collier H.
Young, 17 years old, of Indiana;
Miss Alice Margaret Thompson,
17, of New Hampshire, and Miss Ellen Richardson, Florida, teacher. Miss Elizabeth Flett, Indiana;
Miss Garrett, Virginia and Miss Sarah Rogers, Kentucky, were chosen as the three prettiest girls.

"I can't express my gratitude to you,"
says Mrs. H. K. Miller of Michigan. "I had tried several remedies and hesitated trying more, but others told of the great results they secured from Rite-Wate, so I finally made up my mind to get some.
I have reduced my weight 27 pounds,
and feel like a different person. That slow, dragging feeling has left me, and I feel full of pep and energy now."

Why be fat or burdened with useless overweight? Thousands of women (and men) have been made happy through Rite-Wate, and are enthusiastic in their praise of this new, safe way to reduce.
It's really surprising how wonderfully well it does the work, whether the reduction desired be 5 lbs. or 50 lbs. or more.

Rite-Wate is a Vegetable Compound
in convenient tablet form. Guaranteed not to contain any thyroid, poisonous metallic salts, alkaloids or any other harmful ingredient. Possesses tonic qualities as well. Compounded in one of the largest drug laboratories in the world, thus insuring a thoroughly reliable product. One of the leading drug stores in Detroit says: "In six months
we have sold 3350 boxes of Rite-Wate.
We have had more satisfied customers
on this item than on any similar remedy
that we have ever sold."

When so many women, once fat and ungainly, have found the way to reduce
and enjoy the charm of a slender, attractive, stylish figure, why not try Rite-Wate and see what it can do for you? Remember—we guarantee it to be absolutely harmless. Money refunded if not satisfied with results within seven weeks.

CELEBRATION IN ST. LOUIS SAFE AND SANE THIS YEAR

Observance of Independence Day in City and Vicinity Closes Without Death From Fireworks.

The 1926 Independence Day celebration—perhaps the safest and sanest ever held in St. Louis and vicinity—has closed without a death from fireworks.

More than 400 children and adults were powder-burned and otherwise slightly injured, but none is in critical condition. Of 284 recorded at City Hospital, all but one were immediately discharged. About 100 others were treated at the hospital, but not recorded. In addition scores of others were treated by physicians and at private hospitals in St. Louis, East St. Louis and nearby cities.

The fear that lockjaw might develop from wounds, however slight, was responsible for most of the injured seeking medical attention. As a preventive antitoxin serum was administered extensively.

Records for Recent Years.
This year's absence of fatalities is in contrast with records for some previous years. In 1920 12 children in and around St. Louis died from fireworks accidents. There were no fatalities in 1921; nine in 1922; none in 1923; four in 1924 and two in 1925.

As his contribution to the noise-making yesterday John Hays, 64 years old, a photographer, of 4765 Returning to the house the weapon, Rosa avenue, went into his back yard and fired an automatic pistol. He was accidentally discharged and Hays was shot in the upper left breast.

Many persons were injured by pistols supposed not to be loaded or to contain blank cartridges. George Rockel, 13, of 3974 Gratiot street, thought he was firing a "blank"—until a 22 bullet lodged in his left shoulder. A girl friend pointed an "empty" pistol at May Brown, 9, of 1405 Hickory street, and pulled the trigger. The Brown girl was burned about the neck.

Man Wounded by Negro Boys.
Henry Owens, 56, a laborer, of 1631 South 7th street, smiled when three Negro boys pointed a "blank" pistol at him and threatened to shoot him. One of the boys fired the weapon and a metallic fragment struck and injured Owens' right hand.

Among the many others injured were: Rella Hays, 7, of 1625 North Fifty-fifth street, East St. Louis, who let a firecracker explode in his mouth, and Louis De Wols, 10, of 1628 North Twenty-second street, East St. Louis, who held a cannon cracker too long in his right hand. Those who kept away from "blank" cartridges were injured by torpedoes, premature explosions of crackers, sparklers and playing with matches.

50 Fire Alarms Since Sunday.
The St. Louis Fire Department, from Saturday midnight until 6 a. m. today, responded to 50 fire alarms, attributed to fireworks.

For those who refrained from individual celebrations, and did not leave the city over the week-end, there were many public observances. Pyrotechnic displays attracted thousands to various parts of the city.

A crowd, estimated at 25,000, last night witnessed a brilliant fireworks exhibition, sponsored by the Carondelet Improvement Association, at a subdivision adjoining Carondelet Park on the north. The people sat and stood for several blocks in all directions. Thousands of automobiles were parked farther away.

About 6000 persons attended a program of fireworks given by the Gannondale Community Association in University City last night. At the St. Louis Flying Field, a plane piloted by Capt. Charles A. Lindbergh touched off fireworks in the air.

At Gravois Park there was the annual patriotic program of the Gravois Park Independence Day Association. Circuit Clerk Schmoll delivered an address, and pupils from the Froebel, Monroe, Mearns and Holy Cross schools participated in a pageant of 1776-1860-1926.

10,000 at Phone Co. Picnic.
Ten thousand persons attended the seventh annual picnic of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Employees' Association at Forest Park Highlands. Telephone operators took part in a bathing beauty contest, and first prize was won by Miss Fern Renick of 3543 Commonwealth avenue.

Speaking Sunday at the centennial celebration at Jefferson Barracks, Carl F. G. Meyer, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and civilian aide to the Secretary of War, suggested the erection of a lasting memorial there "to the men who have come from Jefferson Barracks and who were instrumental in shaping the course of our national development and who defended the right of our independence even unto death."

A handicap tournament for the city of Clayton will also start this morning. The club is located on Olive street and Ballas roads, St. Louis County.

Special interest attaches to the first match, involving, as it does, three winners of the national open title, in Jones, Hagen and Macdonald, who are all in the final with Jones last year, in the American amateur championships.

A Difficult Course.

The rough at Scioto continues to give the players plenty to think about. A number of holes yesterday that Scioto as it stands is as tough as any golfing test in America. Many of the pros picked a few holes to play after they had been in the rough, to keep their scores down.

A heavy rain late yesterday put the finishing touch on the course.

The fairways, which a week ago were baked hard, have resumed their green appearance and are again springy to walk upon.

With the advance gallery sales virtually ended, tournament officials are confident that the necessary facilities will be available, however.

When it becomes excessive it generally indicates some disturbance in the scalp and is very often found to precede falling of the hair; excessive dandruff, therefore, merits attention of those who wish to preserve the hair. There are three forms of baldness from a practical viewpoint: senile baldness, premature baldness and symptomatic baldness. The first two are not amenable to treatment from the standpoint of a cure, although premature baldness the eventual loss of the hair may be delayed somewhat. It is in symptomatic baldness that treatment is effective and it is to this that the following applies. BISHOPS' CRUSADE NEXT YEAR

TO STIR EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Ecclesiastics in Letter Deplore Its Decline in Spirit and in Growth.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 6.—The Protestant Episcopal Church is called "as idle as a painted picture" in an open letter issued by a group of Bishops and other leaders of the church. Full approval of the letter was contained in a statement from Presiding Bishop John Gardner Murray, which was appended. The letter announced that a nationwide Evangelistic campaign which will be known as the Bishops' crusade would be launched next spring.

"The church today," the letter asserts, "is incomparably rich in money, organization, influence, power and yet it is failing to produce anything like apostolic results. For example, our communion with its 115 Bishops, over 5000 priests and more than a million communicants secured a net gain last year of only 25,000 members. Something is radically wrong with the church. So long have we allowed people to think of the church as ministering chiefly to their own spiritual needs that it will take both time and effort to change that attitude. They must learn that instead of merely sheep to be tended they are primarily soldiers enlisted in desperate warfare. This applies to laymen as well as to clergy."

Bans Increase in Potato Rates.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—The Interstate Commerce Commission has found to be unjustified proposed increased rates on potatoes from Western trunk line territory to the Missouri, resulting in over 7000 reductions and about 1500 increases.

The lowest proposed increase was one-half cent a hundred pounds, but in a great many instances it was 1 1/2 cents.

or before Aug. 11. The schedule would have provided for a general revision of potato rates from points in Wisconsin and elsewhere in Western trunk line territory to the Missouri, resulting in over 7000 reductions and about 1500 increases.

Business: The Long-Bell Lumber Company, founded in 1875, is believed to be the largest lumber manufacturer and distributor in the world under a single ownership. The business is a complete industrial unit, comprising the ownership of raw material which it manufactures, wholesales and retails, the forest products distributed being widely diversified.

Security: Series A, B and C Bonds will be equally secured by a direct first mortgage on unencumbered standing timber having a value, as independently appraised, equal to at least 100% of the face amount of the outstanding Bonds, and will be further secured by a mortgage on plants, mills and other property having a value at least sufficient to make the aggregate security under the Mortgage not less than 200% of the principal amount of outstanding Bonds, both of which ratios the Company covenants to maintain at all times.

Sinking Fund: The Mortgage contains a sinking fund provision under which the Company covenants to pay into such fund the sum of $6.00 per thousand feet of timber cut or sold in the States of Louisiana and Texas, $3.00 per thousand feet in the States of California and Oregon and 60% of the appraised value in all other States. The funds accumulating in such sinking fund must be applied to the retirement of First Mortgage Bonds, or to certain other purposes. Regardless of the amount of the sinking fund the Company covenants to retire on or before maturity either by purchase or redemption of all of the Series A, B, and C Bonds.

The Bridge Club Carries On

"Well, girls, HOT WEATHER has arrived," said Mrs. Thomas. "I suppose the club is DOOMED for a few months at least."

"Yes indeed," added Mrs. Judson. "there's no enjoyment in BRIDGE while you're SWeltering."

"NONSENSE!" said Sally Knox.

"Well, you may want to BAKE at a BRIDGE TABLE; but we DON'T" came a CHORUS.

"No need to BAKE at all," returned the implacable SALLY.

"LAST SUMMER, I went to a number of BOAT-BRIDGE parties; and if it was HOT in the city, the Mississippi BREEZES kept it a SECRET from us."

"WONDERFUL!" interposed Mrs. Thomas.

"Not wonderful at all," answered Sally Knox. "Just a case of LOOKING before you LEAP."

CHAPTER THIRTY-NINE.

FINALLY the grain was all in the field. Caleb would be among them, examining the wheat and the rye and the deciding upon what land should be fallow next season. Judith had no way of telling beforehand how long he would be away on these tours, so she dared not go beyond the schoolhouse if she left the farm safe at all. In any case, Amelia kept close watch on her, and Amelia was becoming a more severe task master, in a way, than Caleb.

Ellen, Judith and Amelia went into the bush that had been bought of Fusi Aronson and gathered the wild grapes that grew there. The vines weighed down over which the slippery skin like a net. They were a blue mass of tiny, pungently sweet clusters. The women carried home several flour sacks full, the blue stain coating their white cotton dresses. Then there were the jelly and preserves that every day was full, and every evening came with sleep for mind and body.

Lind, observing the unbelievable amount of work that was done by the women in the Clare household, wondered what would happen to them if they were suddenly bereft of these endless duties. She realized that it was only occupation that kept them sane beneath the annering vigilance of Caleb. She saw that some of the most annering conditions under the most annering conditions. But her pity for Judith grew with the passing of every day. She saw that Caleb was by no means releasing his hold on her, and wondered how to free herself. The door of the barn remained locked, and Caleb examined it now and then to make sure that it had not been tampered with. Had it not been for her affection for Judith, Lind would not have been able to bear the rigid atmosphere at the Clare's. When she saw Mark in the evenings, it seemed as if she was relieved of a physical burden.

The time during which the grain dried on the fields was a trying one for Judith. She did not once see Sven, and the messages that Lind brought from him only served to make her impatience more pointed. Even after the heaviest day she would lie awake for hours thinking of him, feeling the dark pressing down upon her like a weight. She avoided Amelia and her detecting eyes, and went out of her way to order not to encounter Ellen, whose triumphant passivity was galling to her. Ellen's face had taken on a perpetual, self-righteous smirk. It seemed to Judith that it gave her sister some satisfaction to witness her debasement—as if she were congratulating herself on having given up what would have ultimately brought her the same misery that she, Judith, was enduring.

Martin, somehow, lost sight of the dream that had come back to him during his days of convalescence. Every hour that brought him back to the land and its exertions took him farther away from the vision that had stirred him while he had time for dreaming. His shoulders resumed their tired slope, as if nothing had happened to set them straight. And when he finally looked out over the fields dotted with their cone-shaped shocks, it was only with the relieved feeling that Caleb would have no fault to find with his work.

The threshing machine came, with its crew of three men, great coarse farmers from north of Latt's Slough. They were housed in the newer part of the barn, where Amelia and Martin had built beds for them on the floor of cedar branches and straw. But they ate with the family, and Lind, after making an heroic effort to ignore them at the table, finally gave it up and had her meals, except breakfast, at Sandhoo's during the three days of their stay.

Judith worked with the men and Martin. Caleb had not hired an extra man. At the end of the first day, Lind, coming from school, saw her little young body standing against the sun on the top of a load of grain. She was rapidly pitching great forkfuls of grain down into the feeder of the threshing machine. Martin worked with her.

Lind walked past the load of grain to where the men were working at the other end of the machine. The grain was brought in huge racks from the fields by Judith, Ellen, Martin and Charlie, and was being threshed a short distance from the stable. Lind sat down on the ground and watched the yellow chaff shooting in a great arc out of the funnel of the threshing machine. Against the late sun it was a volley of gold particles. The teacher wondered whether Judith, from her height on the rack, saw any beauty in the scene. She glanced back at the girl and noted that her face was expressionless, her arms moving swiftly and easily as pendulums over the pitchfork. While Lind was watching her, she looked up, as if she had suddenly become aware of her regard. She pointed at the yellow cascade of chaff that was being thrown out by the machine. Judith nodded and half smiled, then went on pitching as steadily as ever.

On the last day of the threshing Caleb went out across the stubble to the standing flax, the only grain left now. A slow-growing, deliberate, delicate thing it was, and a pride to any man who could successfully raise it. As he had done when it was in blue flower, he slipped between the wires of the fence and stood in the midst of it, almost furtively running his hand over the rough, fully seeded tops. The stepping with care, he waded far into it, touching it now and then, his eyes roving over it hungrily.

When he had had his fill of delight in looking at the flax he turned toward home across the empty fields. A thing lay on his mind which discolored his satisfaction with his crops. Mark Jordan had inflicted upon him bodily injury, in the presence of the most dignified members of the church. It was a thing that he could never forgive nor forget. He had hidden his humiliation, had brushed the affair lightly away, but he knew the tongues of the countryside would wave forever with the episode. At church hereafter he would be pointed at and there would be stifled snickers. He who had been unapproachable, revered, had been picked up and tossed like a puny into a group of the church's most prominent personalities. That he was helpless to retaliate save in one way was not gratifying to him. He desired that the moment of his revelation to Mark Jordan should be one of his own choosing. He felt that he should keep his "trump card" for some overflowing offense against himself, that also involved Amelia. So he forced himself to lie idle until something occurred which would justify his revealing to Mark Jordan his true identity, and so forever clear the score. He would see that such a consequential thing came about before Mark left for the city.

In a few weeks' time, the flax would be taken off, threshed, and the seed sold to the markets in the south for a fine sum. Yes, yes, things were going along very smoothly indeed. Two announcements were posted in Johanneson's store. One was to the effect that fishing was now open in Bjarnasson's lake. Every one read it with a mingling of awe and fear, knowing what it meant. The other gave the particulars of a harvest jubilee that was to be held in Latt's School, and was to take the form of a masquerade.

Charlie brought the news home to the Clares. Caleb took no notice of the harvest jubilee announcement, but his face soured when he heard that the Bjarnassons had at last found what they had sought for a year. "Could 'a' had fish the year round if I'd 'a' had somebody with a mite o' spunk to send for it," he complained. When the children were all in bed that night, Caleb sat reading his farm journal under the lamp, thought of the jubilee and resolved that none of the children should go, since she could not with fairness single Judith out to remain at home.

Caleb looked up. "Figgerin' on seedin' to the mail order for stuff for this masquerade, eh?" he asked genially.

"No," Amelia answered. "They'll not be going."

Caleb looked at her narrowly. Then a smile relaxed his face. He asked her eyebrow. "Not goin'?"

Amelia looked at him and saw his amusement. She realized at once that she had made a mistake. "Oh, well—if you'll let them. I just thought maybe we couldn't afford it."

She dropped her eyes to her work so that he should not see her anxiety. Had he seen through her excuse, she wondered? Or did he think she was as confident concerning Judith as he was himself? She waited almost without breathing to hear what he would say next.

"Well—" he yawned comfortably. "—we'll see. We'll see. Plenty of time yet, eh? And let's go to bed. I'm gettin' old I guess—gettin' old."

Amelia went to bed and prayed that he would refuse to let them go. She knew in her heart that Judith could not be trusted. There was something beneath her quiet these days that baffled and harassed Amelia. She was constantly on the alert for a change in her mood, and relentlessly reminding her of what lay in store if she crossed Caleb again. But Judith would not think twice if the opportunity came for her to get away free. She prayed Caleb would forbid them to go.

Caleb, turning his face to the wall, laughed to himself. This was one of the little strategies that made life interesting.

SCIENCE TACKLES SEASICKNESS

The Main Trouble Is Your Inner Ear—At the Same Time It Is Well to Avoid Filling Up With Sweet Junk and to Spend Most of Your Time on Deck

PEOPLE laugh at you if you have it, yet shudder at the thought of getting it themselves. It will never kill you, yet there are other things with fatal possibilities that you might prefer. There are more remedies for it than won't work than there are for anything else known to man. And though its causes are far simpler than most ailments, few people understand them.

"It," of course, refers to seasickness. Its mysteries, however, need no longer remain such to the intending tourist.

Dr. P. H. Demos, port medical officer of the United Fruit Co., has published in the Journal of the American Medical Association an explanation of mal de mer, an explanation based on careful research in medical literature, on personal observation and on reports of ships' doctors who have had a decade or more of experience on the sea.

The five main causes of seasickness and what the doctor can do to help the victim are set forth in clarity. The landlubber's lament need no longer be couched in terms of superstition and neighborly advice. He who rolls may read.

THE main cause of seasickness, for those who can pride themselves on being normally healthy adults, is a well-developed inner ear. Infants are immune from only hit the correct nerves to the brain that help the body to maintain balance but they hit a lot of other nerves too. They excite the vagus, and since the vagus is an important nerve that leads to the esophagus, stomach, heart, liver and spleen, a lot of damage can be done when the equilibrium organs run wild.

Of course these organs, like most everything else, can adjust themselves to a peculiar type of motion given time. Dr. Louis Fisher of New York has advocated a cure beforehand by reviewing prospective voyagers in a Barany chair, which reproduces, to some extent, the motion of a ship at sea. He has found that after a few sessions in the chair the patient gains a temporary immunity.

The argument against this is that every ship has its own roll, and sailors who have stood the worst of the sea had to offer while they were on a destroyer have become "deadly sick" (certainly an inaccurate saying, as seasickness, of all ills, is not fatal) when crossing on an English Channel steamer.

YEASTRAIN is another cause of seasickness. First-time voyagers who are confident they will not get seasick if they read continuously may find that if they are careless about shading their eyes from the bright glare of sky and water they become afflicted with eye muscle fatigue, "ocular vertigo," which brings on dizziness, headache and other unpleasant symptoms. Those amateur ocean lovers who stand at the rail and watch the swirling ocean for long periods at a time may have the same fate. Blind people get seasick, however, so yeastrain, of

It will never kill you, yet there are other things with fatal possibilities that you might prefer.

must be had so that the central nervous system will be in good condition. Open-air exercise is important to prepare for the "fresh and stimulating" air of the ocean and to tone up the reflexes. Horseback riding and swimming are especially recommended.

The diet should avoid foods with an acid reaction, for that is one of the most common tendencies in seasickness. Tubers, leafy green vegetables and fruits, especially citrus fruits, are best for this. On the other hand, the salts of meat, cereal and legume foods (peas, beans, etc.) have an acid reaction. Sugar, pies, cakes, pastries, candies and other sweets should be strictly avoided, as these remain longest in the stomach and are apt to cause fermentation, with increased acid formation.

Once on board, says Dr. Demos, the diet should be restricted in amount and should be limited to the articles that appeal most to the appetite, as these keep the "tone" of the stomach up best. Little fluid should be taken at meals. A laxative pill at night or soda phosphate in the morning is usually necessary to secure evacuation daily. Most of the time should be spent on deck, and the mind should be kept actively engaged in some diversion, for with many people the psychic element is the strongest of all and the most difficult to overcome.

ONCE seasickness develops in a healthy person who has taken good care of himself previous to sailing, it is probably due to disturbances in the inner ear, and Dr. Demos recommends that the doctor give the patient scopolamine hydrobromide, which is a close relative of atropine. This is given by mouth at the rate of 1-400th of a grain every hour, sometimes mixed in a capsule with chlorbutanol, which induces sleep. These drugs, of course, should not be taken except under orders of the doctor.

Immunity to the effects of a ship's motion under average weather conditions is usually established in a healthy adult after three or four days. The brain learns to inhibit the peculiar sensations, and the voyager finds his elusive sealegs. After many voyages, complete freedom is to be expected, always excepting, of course, slight relapses due to very bad weather conditions.

There are more remedies for it that won't work than there are for anything else known to man.

Children's Throats

By DR. CHARLOTTE C. WEST

DISEASES of the upper breathing tract—the nose, throat, bronchial tubes—are very common in children and demand prompt and careful treatment. The nose is the true organ of respiration (breathing), as through it the air is warmed, filtered and moistened before it reaches the throat and lungs.

If the nasal passages are clogged or in any way obstructed, breathing takes place through the mouth; cold, dusty, dry air striking the delicate membranes of the throat gives rise to inflammation and sometimes a hacking cough. The effect of this on the bronchial tubes causes spasmodic contraction of these tissues and of the air cells in the lungs, so that very little oxygen is taken into the child's system. I have so often explained that oxygen not only means life, it means physical and mental development.

Mothers often ask why all babies have pug noses. It is indeed a very important question, which is never fully explained unless the doctor is also one who loves his fellow man, for then he will take time to teach and instruct. In the newborn the septum or division of the nasal chambers is composed of cartilage (gristle), therefore all babies' noses are soft and pugy. As the child grows older, this gristly division is displaced by a bony plate which gradually descends and pushes the cartilage forward, while the nose slowly takes on shape. The baby also has four bones in his nose which later on unite, so that when we are grown we have two turbinated bones and a bony plate or septum between the nostrils.

Now, as growth gradually takes place, the other bones of the face and skull enlarge, and you can very readily understand how any interference with this process will have a disastrous effect, not only in distorting the nose as a feature, in changing the dental arch, so causing endless dental trouble later on, but in depriving the child of sufficient nourishment while he is yet nursing and of sufficient oxygen—the breath of life—as needed as food, to retain his physical and mental growth and well being.

You can now understand, from these few words of explanation, why it is of such tremendous importance that the child's entire breathing apparatus be unobstructed and healthy from the hour of his birth; also why so many children are seriously handicapped from their earliest infancy; why there are so few beautiful noses, and why cosmetic operations on the nose bring about so vast an improvement in those who submit to them.

Rare indeed is the person with the perfect exterior nasal apparatus. Some specialists claim that none of us have a perfectly straight septum (the partition separating the nostrils). This is doubtless due to the fact that in babyhood the septum is soft, and few if any children go through childhood without colds in the head. The swelling of the soft structures, together with the injudicious use of handkerchiefs, will very easily cause this wall or partition to lean in one direction.

Children are told to use a handkerchief and if you have ever watched a child in the act of wiping his nose, you know just how he does it and just what he does to the soft tissue.

He doesn't blow his nose and cleans out the nostrils, but with all his little strength he grasps his nose and pushes it in one direction. If he is right-handed, as most children are, he always pushes toward the left, hence the left nostril in most of us is smaller than the right, because the septum deviates toward the right.

Cooling Dishes to Serve Warm

By HANNAH

FRUIT seems to be the cooling dish in hot weather. This writer of more than 20 years' experience stands on which large quantities of fruit are served. Fruit is so refreshing and so delicious that it is a brilliant idea to serve it in a variety of ways. It is especially commendable to the confectioner's table.

When fruit is cooked or semicooked, it is apt to be too hot to eat. It is best to serve it in a variety of ways. It is especially commendable to the confectioner's table.

MEDITATION

By HELL

Isn't man wonderful?

He can tell you the answer to the question where to find the Balkans or the left the garden rake or hid

He can remember the names of the French Kings—but he can't remember the names of the grocer's for, nor where color of her eyes.

He can sail ships through the ocean yet learned to walk on a balance not how to hold

He can tell you how the world is used for a thousand years, and he can't tell you a shower bath without a about soaking himself.

He can lift a 50-pound weight and carry them as fast as a

He can splice a rope, put a knot in it, and make his own radio, and he can't shed blood

He can explain exactly how the world is used for a thousand years, and he can't tell you a shower bath without a about soaking himself.

He can figure out just how the world is used for a thousand years, and he can't tell you a shower bath without a about soaking himself.

He can tell you how Ford's engine could save millions of dollars, and he can't tell you what he did with out of his pay-envelope.

He can do his own cooking and milk and corned beef, and he can't pour his own coffee, and he can't do it in two days in succession, without back home.

Man is a dynamo of energy and accomplishment, the soul of effort on earth! Isn't man WONDERFUL?
